Hopefuls lining up to follow the dream

A YOUNG entertainer will this weekend win £1,000 towards their first year education in performing arts.

Six hopefuls will line up for the Follow That Dream grand final at Cannock's Prince of Wales Centre on Saturday (September 22) from 7.30pm.

It has been organised through the Melanie Till Memorial Fund by her parents Bryan and Anne.

The finalists have each chosen and rehearsed three items to perform before a panel of three professional judges, namely Katie Leeming, who has expertise in music, theatre and choreography, actor and director Kelvin Broomhead and David Kettle, who has international experience in opera and musical theatre.

Perform

Guest-singers from Ovation will perform while locally-born West End star Andy Reiss and judge Katie, both singers with Beyond the Barricade, will open the second half.

Lining up are Mia Stapleton, aged 11, from Heath Hayes, Grace Wyatt, 18, of Cannock, 18-year-old Victoria Tew, of Willenhall, Beth Peach-Robinson, of Featherstone, aged 22, Layla Shirley, 18 of Cannock and Luke Groves, also 18, of Brownhills

Some tickets still remain at the box office on 01543 578762. They are £12 each or £40 for a family.

Get craic-ing at Irish party

FANS of everything Irish will be up for the craic at a popular Cannock bar which is celebrating the 253rd birthday of Guinness.

Bar Sport, in High Green, will be hosting a free Arthur's Day Irish party next Thursday (September 27) from 7pm.

The Wild Irish and Irish dancers will perform and there will be a traditional Irish menu plus special offers on Guinness and a party DJ.

OUTCRY OVER BID TO REMOVE PEWS

by Charlotte Lilley

A CHURCH in Burntwood – the first in the UK to have electricity – has sparked concern among members of its congregation over plans to open it up to the local community.

St Anne's Church, Church Street, Chasetown has submitted a faculty application to remove pews and replace them with stacking chairs. This would widen the space inside the building and give better access for disabled people and groups.

Reverend Vivienne Hatton said: "The church fellowship identified the need for change and after speaking to community groups, the plans have been well received."

"We want to widen the space inside the church. Our aim is to have the building used by the whole community and not just churchgoers."

"A few people have expressed concern but I want to reassure them that we are not removing the pews completely. We are simply moving them elsewhere in the church to create a more central space."

But churchgoers say repositioning the pews will detract from the beauty of the church. Sam Whitehouse, member and parishioner of St Anne's, said: "Fixed pews are naturally orderly but piles of stacking chairs such as might be found in the corner of a school or village hall are inappropriate."

"The proposal to keep a few truncated pews in the south aisle is a pathetic sop and an insult to the vision of those who created this remarkable building in a true Christian spirit for the ordinary working miner."

Sufficient

The church was consecrated in 1865 for the miners. In the mid 1980s a reshuffle reduced the number of seats inside the building from 750 to 200 to make room for four meeting rooms, a kitchen and toilet facilities, which members say are sufficient to hold sessions and activities.

Mr Whitehouse said: "The only current community activities are the art group, a sewing class and the mums and toddlers group which it does suffer from a lack of space, but why not have two sessions?"

"In my view support for and against has not been tested. There has been no public consultation."

But Mrs Hatton said: "We have had open church meetings to discuss the possible changes and received lots of support."

"We already have some groups who meet here but these improvements will allow for more."

"We would like to be able to help vulnerable adults by holding sessions with qualified professionals, but we need space."

Husband sent to prison over £1.8m debt con

A MAN from Rugeley who conned almost £2 million from customers by promising them they could become debt free has been jailed for four years. His wife avoided prison.

Basil Rankine, aged 46, and wife Amanda, 36, set up Credit Card Killer and claimed they could help people by buying up their debts, Birmingham Crown Court heard.

Mr Richard Barraclough QC, prosecuting, said the couple amassed at least £1.8m.

Credit Card Killer, the trading name of Momentum Network Limited, claimed it could buy people's debts from them for £1.

The couple, of Somerset Avenue, claimed they could find loopholes in credit agreements and customers then thought they were no longer liable for the debt.

But this was illegal without the permission of the lender who would often still chase borrowers. Basil was convicted of 10 counts of fraud and his wife of nine. He was also convicted of four counts of unfair commercial practice and his wife of three. The charges related to a period between January 2009 and July 2010.

Basil, representing himself, said the company had followed correct procedures. Defending Amanda, Mr Philip Bown said she had been "subordinate" to her husband.

Basil was handed a four-year jail term while his wife was given a 12-month sentence, suspended for 18 months, and told to carry out 200 hours unpaid work.

Shop owner's sweet surprise

Daniel Hackett aged 10, Ellie Harvey, seven and shop owner Lorraine Morgan

A YOUNG bookworm gave his local sweet-shop owner a shock when he strolled in with his own giant Willy Wonka chocolate bar – dressed as an Oompah-Loompah.

Ten-year-old Dan Hackett had come from John Bamford Primary School, where teachers and pupils had been celebrating the 96th birthday of children's author Roald Dahl, on September 13. Dan wandered into Sweets & Treats on Brookes Square, Rugeley with his mother, Debbie, aged 45, of Burnthill Lane.

Shopkeeper Lorraine Morgan said: "He said he had been getting a lot of strange looks. I'm not surprised."

Cash cuts are not so handy for the elderly

FUNDING for a handyman service assisting elderly and vulnerable people in Burntwood is to be cut.

Town Councillor Steve Norman has revealed the county council is to stop funding the service that helps residents with small jobs and improvements around the home.

Councillor Norman said: "The service, which is funded indirectly from government, is a vital service for vulnerable people."

"They need someone they can trust to do the small jobs some of us can take for granted but for an older person can be dangerous because they may fall over-reaching themselves and so on."

Traders

Local Home Agency Spirita operates the service and was due to have its contract renewed in April next year but has now been told it will not be needed.

Councillor Norman said a government report last year had rated it as a valued service. Residents will now have to look elsewhere for traders and pay commercial rates which many cannot afford, he added.

Residents are now being urged to lobby the council to put temporary measures in place while they review the service.

Anyone looking for vetted commercial traders should visit www.traderregister.org.uk or telephone 01785 330808.

Marching on for freedom

A PARADE will take place in Hednesford next month to celebrate the Staffordshire Regimental Association being granted the freedom of the town.

Hednesford Town Council decided to mark the Queen's Diamond Jubilee by granting the Hednesford Branch of the Staffordshire Regimental Association the honour.

The soldiers will march through the town from midday on October 13.

GERMAN ELECTRIC HEATING IS THE ANSWER

This incredible heating could be the answer to help beat the ever increasing energy costs and amazingly, it is not, gas, oil, or solid fuel – but electric! It's clean, Simple to install, Powerful, Economical, and no more servicing costs - EVER! All you need is a normal electricity supply and a plug socket and NO standard tariff like economy seven.

In Germany, Austria, Eastern Europe and even America, more and more people are choosing to heat their homes and offices with this very special form of electric heating in preference to gas, oil, LPG or any other form of conventional central heating or economy seven.

Here in the Midlands more and more of our customers are making that same decision and when you see this incredible heating for yourself, you could be next!

The heating looks just like a conventional radiator, but STOP! It is very, very different!

Put simply, the clunky central heating boiler needing constant servicing and replacement parts isn't the only choice any more!

Now you can choose to heat your homes, offices, extensions or conservatories with this incredible German heating which provides individual control over every single room without the need for a central control or space to site a boiler. Now the boiler space can also become a storage area!

Installation takes minutes and running is completely clean, there is no danger of leakage, no holes through walls, no floorboards up and no tradesmen trundling around the house wielding pipe cutters, hammers, wrenches and dirty work tools. This incredible heating simply plugs in and that's it! Job Done! You can even do just one room or the whole house!

Chairman inaugurated at civic service

THE Chairman of Cannock Chase Council has held his Civic Service.

The annual service includes an inauguration to mark the council chairman's year in office.

It was held this year at St Peter's Church in Church Hill, Hednesford, and was attended by council members, deputy Lieutenant of Staffordshire Michael Street, Sarah Elsom, the High Sheriff of Staffordshire. Mayors and chairmen from local councils across Staffordshire were in attendance, while town and parish councils were also represented.

Local military associations took part and a procession was led into the church by a standard bearer.

The organisations taking part were the Hednesford branches of the Staffordshire Regimental Association and Royal British Legion, and the Cannock branches of the Royal British Legion and the Royal Engineers Association.

Privilege

Council chairman Councillor Bob Todd said: "It's a huge privilege to be representing the council as chairman this year and the Civic Service was a wonderful occasion."

"I've very much enjoyed my year in office so far and it's been wonderful to meet so many people at official engagements and fundraising events for my two charities."

The chairman is hosting a big fundraising event at the Civic Centre Ballroom in Cannock in November to raise money for his chosen charities, Cancer Research UK and Mencap.

Beating bounds to raise £6,000

HIGH Sheriff of Staffordshire Sarah Elsom raised more than £6,000 - with the total still rising - by beating the bounds of the county in a Austin 7 chummy.

She and her friends finished their 260-mile drive in their vintage vehicles at the Harvester in Bassetts Pole.

Over three days, the entire boundary of the county was driven as a way of 'beating the bounds' an ancient practice dating back to at least medieval times.

Along the route the convoy stopped at tourist attractions and community events in order to publicise and raise funds for SSAFA Forces Help, the soldiers, sailors, airmen and families Association. It is the oldest Armed Forces charity.

Sarah said: "Thank you so much to everyone who came to cheer us on and to all those who donated so generously to SSAFA."

Homes bid is approved

TEN new town houses on derelict land at the back of a Rugeley pub in Rugeley have been given the go-ahead despite congestion concerns from nearby residents.

The two-storey homes, all with front and back gardens, will be laid out in a cul-de-sac design off Lion Street, at the back of the Vine Inn in Sheep Fair. There will be 20 parking spaces.

Residents in Lion Road, a congested one-way street, had raised concerns with planning chiefs over parking.

Emergency service vehicles and refuse lorries also struggled to use the road.

Officers acknowledged there was a possible danger while Rugeley Town Council objected on the grounds it would increase traffic in an already congested area.

Fundraising ride

A CYCLIST from Cannock raised £460 for the Multiple Sclerosis Society. Haydn Greenway, aged 58, rode 100 miles from his home in Manor Avenue, Cannock, to the Shropshire Hills and back on August 1.

Fan recalls fateful day of Hillsborough tragedy

AS Mark Flynn passed through the Hillsborough turnstiles on April 15, 1989, he could have never imagined how the day would unfold.

The Liverpool fan from Penkridge told of that fateful day and recalled how people desperately tried to scale the fence, while advertising boards were used as stretchers.

'I've been carrying a burden for 23 years'

HILLSBOROUGH survivor Mark Flynn said he could have "punched the air" when he heard David Cameron's apology for the failures which caused the disaster.

It followed the disclosure of the report by the Hillsborough Independent Panel, which revealed police and emergency services made "strenuous attempts" to deflect the blame for the incident onto innocent fans.

Liverpool fan Mark said: "When I heard the sorry from Cameron it proved I wasn't a liar. It's a burden I had been carrying for 23 years. The ticket that day had only cost me £6 but what a cost that was."

The 43-year-old added: "I've been to a couple of memorial services at Anfield since and I look at the names on the memorial and think my name could have been on there."

A Liverpool FC season ticket holder since 1987, Mr Flynn said he helped people climb onto stands above as they tried to escape.

"I got jostled about and my mate, who was shorter was struggling to see."

"We fought our way into the corner and managed to get into the next pen."

Mr Flynn was aged 20 when he went to the FA Cup semi-final against Nottingham Forest, paying £6 for his ticket.

As he passed through turnstiles to get into the ground, accompanied by a friend, he never imagined the day's events would lead to 96 Liverpool supporters dying in a crush.

The father-of-one, now 43, of Saxon Road, was standing inside the fenced-in enclosure at the Leppings Lane end of the stadium as more and more fans piled in.

The respite foster carer, who has been a Liverpool FC season ticket holder since 1987, said he began helping people climb onto the stands above.

Needle

"When the game kicked off it started at a frantic pace," he said. "Everyone was trying to see and pushed forwards."

"People at the fence were getting crushed and began climbing over it to get onto the pitch."

He said some fans were chanting and singing, while others were panicking.

"We were trying to get people through the side gate but it was like trying to shove a fist through the eye of a needle," he added. "People were right by it but they couldn't physically move."

"People were all being directed to one tunnel but I got out through a different exit." Mr Flynn managed to board a bus going back to the train station but had to sit on the floor. "It was so quiet you could hear the radio on upstairs," he said.

"There were reports about what was happening. By the time we got back to the train station there were at least 20 dead."

"I caught the train back to Birmingham and when I got there someone shouted at me that I was a murderer."

"I went home not knowing whether to cry."

Mark Flynn, aged 43, from Penkridge, who was at the Hillsborough disaster

New-look surgery's open day

A LONG-established dental practice is having a major refurbishment and will mark its completion with an open day this weekend.

The Birchwood Dental practice, a base for five dentists on Walsall Road, Great Wyrley has undergone a £200,000 makeover.

Now potential new NHS patients are being urged to view the improved facilities during the open day from 11am to 4pm.

Dental practitioner and practice owner Dr Pete Sangha said: "We have totally modernised and extended the facilities.

Patients

"We want to show these to our existing patients, but also to draw attention to the fact that we are not just a private practice - we welcome new NHS patients too.

"We want to give people the chance to view parts of a dental surgery they would never normally see."

The surgery has been active for around 40 years. New facilities include a disabled toilet, improved patient waiting areas and air conditioning throughout.

NHS Dental services will be commissioned from April 2013 by local Clinical Commissioning Groups (CCGs).

Dr Johnny McMahon, Cannock Chase CCG chairman said: "People have the right to receive dental services on the NHS, and this investment and awareness is excellent."

Makeovers on agenda

MANICURES, massages and make-up makeovers are on the agenda at a ladies' day in Rugeley next month.

The event, to raise funds for the Midlands Air Ambulance, will take place at Mansfield House Working Men's club on October 21.

The £1 admission enters visitors into a raffle. The event is for over-16s only.

Taster sessions by stage group

A STAGE group is holding a taster session this weekend.

Chase Stage Academy is inviting anyone interested in joining to drop in to their base at Lyncroft Road, in St John's Road, Cannock, between 1pm and 4pm on Saturday (September 22).

Tuition in singing, dance and drama is available.

Views are sought on conservation areas

Report by Will Ackermann

RESIDENTS in Cannock Chase are being invited to have their say on council plans to manage and protect two of the district's conservation areas.

Appraisals and management plans for the Cannock town centre and Bridgtown conservation areas will be out for consultation until Friday 26 October. Once approved by cabinet, they will guide the areas' future development.

Councillor Gordon Alcott, economic development and planning leader for Cannock Chase Council, said: "It is vital that conservation areas throughout the district are protected to ensure their historical features and buildings are safeguarded for future generations.

"The management plans and appraisals for Cannock town centre and Bridgtown set out how the council plans to do this.

"I urge all interested parties to get involved," Councillor Alcott added.

The Cannock Town Centre Conservation

Area was designated in 1991 and comprises Market Place and High Green, extending north into Stafford Road and south and east into Wolverhampton Road and around the churchyard.

It contains 11 listed buildings and two Scheduled Ancient Monuments.

Historic

Bridgtown Conservation Area was designated in 1988 and covers a historic group of shops and other buildings along North Street and the adjacent Union Street and Church Street. All documents can be downloaded from the council's website at www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk/planningpolicy and are also available at the Civic Centre in Beecroft Road, Cannock, and at Cannock Library, in Manor Avenue.

Comments can be emailed to planningpolicy@cannockchasedc.gov.uk or posted to Planning Policy, Cannock Chase Council, Civic Centre, PO Box 28, Beecroft Road, Cannock WS11 1BG.

Here Wiggo as cycling fans turn out to welcome heroes

CROWDS lined up along the sun-kissed lanes of Staffordshire to pay tribute to British cycling heroes Bradley Wiggins and Mark Cavendish.

The pair sped through Stone, Stafford, Brocton, Cannock Chase, Rugeley and Blithfield before heading north of the county on the 92-mile fifth stage of the Tour of Britain last Thursday (September 13).

Cycling has enjoyed a revival of interest in the wake of the Sky team's success at the Tour de France and Bradley Wiggins' Olympic triumph.

Retired teachers Gill and Barrie Brown, both 64, have been following the event since their student days when it was known as the Milk Race.

The couple, from Tettenhall, Wolverhampton, who went to the Pyrenees in 2003 to watch the Tour de France, watched the riders speed by from a vantage point on Cannock Chase, among a crowd of around 100 spectators.

Gill said: "We've been to see the race over the years when it was held at the end of May. "We saw it in Wolverhampton one year, standing outside The Mermaid on the Bridgnorth Road and then legging it to Birmingham to catch up with the race there.

Boulder

"It's wonderful to see the riders at such close quarters. They flashed by so quickly but I'm pretty sure I picked out Bradley Wiggins.

The riders left Stone just after 10.50am, reaching the glacial boulder near Chase Road, Brocton, at around 11.20am, passing by the Gorman Military Cemetery, and reaching Blithfield near Rugeley around 20 minutes later.

There was no mistaking 19-year-old student Alex Fox's allegiances as he sported a Bradley Wiggins mask to cheer on the riders. He was there with friends, Matt Thomas and Henry Whitfield, both 18, who waved a union flag as the cyclists sped by. The three had travelled from Alrewas to pay tribute to the riders. Alex said: "We love cycling but this has been a special year."

Matt, a former club rider, had travelled north days earlier to watch stage two of the race between Nottingham and Liverpool.

He said: "It's been brilliant. All our friends and brothers and sisters have suddenly become interested in cycling. That's the effect these riders have had."

Bus driver Dave Birkett, from Abbott Street, Bloxwich, can usually be found behind the wheel of a No 89 Wolver-

Leader

"This is one of those events where you can say 'I was there'," he said. The riders passed through before Mark Cavendish and the rest of the British team dropped back.

Overall race leader at the time, he finished nearly 12 minutes behind Dutch rider Marc de Maar who won the stage. Cavendish, the current world champion, struggled when the race hit the King of the Mountains section in Cannock Chase, although he started the day with a slender lead after winning stages three and four.

The race coincided with the weekly meeting of The Thursday Club, a group of retired gentlemen from South Staffordshire who cycle together once a week. They gathered at Springslade Lodge tea room to raise a toast to veteran member John Robinson who was celebrating his 72nd birthday.

He was with friends Bill Gallan, who organises the Brewood Cycle Challenge, and Patrick Savage, of Coven, both 71, and Bill's son, 17-year-old Alex.

OFF to our local food festival when the park was stuffed with stalls selling food to people who are already quite well enough stuffed with food. This obesity "epidemic" gets worse by the day. There are people wandering the streets now who, only a few decades ago, would have been attractions in a travelling circus. The cops were doing the community-policing thing, patrolling the food festival, wandering amiably between the hog roasts and Caribbean cuisine stalls. In a sane world they would be standing at the gates and acting as bouncers to protect the larders from their own appetites: "Move along, sir. You've had enough."

IT IS a well-known fact that a dropped piece of toast always lands butter-side down. A similar law of nature seems to apply to expanding foam, as used by builders to fill embarrassing gaps around door and window frames. A friend bought a monster-sized aerosol of this unbelievably sticky stuff and managed to knock it off his table. It landed squarely on the press-button and a great squirt of foam shot across the kitchen, expending as it went. This is one of those stories that is always much funnier when it happens to other people.

THE Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr Rowan Williams, says the job is too big for one person. He suggests creating a "presidential" role for someone to share the duties. I suspect he has made the fatal error of so many dedicated people, of throwing far too much time at a job. Some folk immerse themselves body and soul in a frenetic 24/7 commitment to the job. Others breeze through it, finding time for golf, the family and plenty of good lunches. If there is a golden rule of employment, it is that the hours you put in are nowhere near as important as what you put into the hours.

THE Archbishop also finds it necessary to apologise for disappointing both conservatives and liberals in the Church. To Rowan Williams, this is a failing. To the rest of us, it looks as though he was getting the balance about right.

JUST back from a break in the Gower Peninsula in south Wales. I wrote a few days ago about drivers being nicked for speeding at well-known hot spots in England where they don't realise the speed limit has changed. Whenever you question the authorities about the lack of adequate signing, they tell you the rules are laid down by Whitehall. Yet in the part of Wales we visited every speed-camera sign carries the appropriate speed limit which is repeated in damn great numerals on the road surface with the warning Araf (Slow). The aim seems to be to prevent drivers from speeding in the first place, not to make money from the unwary. If they can do this in one part of the UK, why not in the rest?

Kate in saddle for Paralympic role

SOUTH Staffordshire College worker Kate Solon received a special invitation to work with the Irish equine team at the London Paralympics.

Kate, who originates from County Kildare but now lives in Penkridge, is yard manager at the college's Equine Centre at Rodbaston Campus. She was asked by Helen Kearney, one of Ireland's most promising riders, to step in after her usual groom was unable to accompany her. Helen has been riding since a young age and was diagnosed with a neuromuscular disorder at the age of 12. A talented and promising rider, she won an individual dressage bronze in the 2011 European Championships in Belgium.

Kate and Helen attended a training camp in County Limerick with the rest of the Paralympic team.

Kate then travelled over on the ferry with Helen's horse, Mr Cool and once in London was responsible for his day-to-day care, including feeding, mucking out, grooming, washing, riding, lunging and plaiting.

Kate has represented Ireland in amateur showjumping events and was delighted to be given the opportunity to go to the London Paralympics.

She said: "It was such an exciting time. Helen was rewarded with a bronze medal in the individual freestyle, silver in the individual test and the Irish team won bronze."

Leap of faith for Nicola in skydive

A PENKRIDGE pupil is preparing for a leap of faith—jumping out of a plane to raise money for charity.

Nicola Richards, aged 17, from Wolgarston High School, is taking part in the tandem skydive next Thursday (September 27). She hopes to raise £700 for RSPCA Stafford Wolverhampton and District Branch.

She said: "I can't wait to experience the 60 seconds of freefall when I jump out of the plane at 10,000 feet before the parachute opens. I'm not nervous yet but I know I'll be shaking on the day."

"When I was younger I would go paragliding with my dad. A skydive is something I've always wanted to do."

The skydive is being paid for by Penkridge Cattery, Mere Lane Farm, which is owned by Nicola's father, Adrian Richards, 42, opened the cattery 18 months ago. He said: "As a father, I am nervous for Nicola but she's doing this for a good cause."

To sponsor Nicola, visit www.penkridgecattery.co.uk and click on the link or text RSPC32 and the amount you would like to sponsor to 70070.

Changes to tax benefits

CONSULTATION over changes to council tax benefit in Cannock Chase has been launched. The present system through which councils run the benefits on the Government's behalf is being replaced by local schemes from April 2013.

The deadline for responses has been set at November 16.

The council is also running two information events. They will take place at the council's Civic Centre, in Beecroft Road, on November 7, from 2-4pm, and from 10am to noon on November 13.

Band keeps busy

CANNOCK band Almost Easy are keeping busy with two weekend dates. They perform tomorrow night (Friday) at a clay pigeon rally at South Wingfield Social Club, in Alfreton, Derbyshire and the following day at the Rock and Bike Fest aftershow party in nearby Long Eaton.

Contractors fined over delays to pool opening

CONTRACTORS who failed to complete Cannock's new flagship swimming pool on time are to be fined by the district council.

It was revealed last week that a penalty for late completion had been written into the deal to build the pool at Chase Leisure Centre in Stafford Road.

by Mark Mudie

Leisure chief Councillor Christine Mitchell said details were confidential but the bill is thought to be rising the longer the pool remains closed.

No timescale has yet been set for the repairs to be completed. The baths have been hit by a technical problem that causes the tiling to crack when the water is heated.

The six-lane, 25-metre competition-standard pool had been due to open on August 8.

Contract

Councillor Mitchell said the council would be compensated for the delay.

"A fine for not having it open on time is written into the contract. I cannot reveal the financial details as they are confidential," she said.

"We have been in discussions with the contractor and are still waiting for a definitive plan of action from them, so there is no update on when the pool might open."

Specialists have been brought in by contractor, GF

Tomlinson Ltd, to try to get to the bottom of the problem, which came to light when workmen heated the filled pool. The expansion caused by the rise in temperature put stress on the joints, resulting in cracks.

Clubs have been forced to book alternative pools.

The hold-up meant the new baths were closed over the summer holidays.

Leisure bosses who had hoped to capitalise on new swimmers being inspired by the Olympic and Paralympic Games in London have been left frustrated.

The new pool is part of the £6.5m revamp of the leisure centre. Boasting a 200-seat spectator gallery, it is the jewel in the crown of the transformation, with a moveable floor that can create different depths.

The council says it is fine when filled with cold water, it was only when heated that the flaw emerged.

The contractor was unavailable for comment.

New year hope for bridge

A TWO-LANE bridge to be built over a dangerous level crossing in Cannock Chase could be up by January. The crossing is used by thousands of cyclists every week and Network Rail says work will be under way within weeks.

Cannock Chase planners last week gave unanimous approval to the construction at Moors Gorse, off Marquis Drive. Paul Sumner, from Network Rail, told them it was hoped to have the bridge in place in time for a fell walking event in January. "It's a tight squeeze, but that would be the aim."

The bridge, with a lane for horses and another for pedestrians and cyclists, is believed to cost £3m.

There has been a dramatic rise in the number of cyclists using the crossing after a 15-mile mountain bike trail through the forest was set up.

Parishioners bid vicar farewell

Rev Wendy Heath receives flowers from Dennis Cooper as she leaves St Michael's Church, Main Road, Brereton. They are joined by other members of the church

A RUGELEY vicar bids farewell to her congregation at the end of this month.

A farewell service is being held to mark the end of Rev Wendy Heath's tenure at St Michael's Church in Brereton.

Mrs Heath has been at the church for more than 11 years and is moving on to become part-time minister at St John the Baptists Church in nearby Slitting Mill. She and her husband Garry have become a big part of Brereton life over the years. She said: "The community of Brereton is the most caring we have ever been a part of."

The farewell service will be held at 4pm on Sunday September 30 at St Michaels follow by refreshments at the parish hall. Donations towards a gift can be made to churchwardens.

Learn how to play the Spain way

YOUNG footballers were being given the chance to learn the game the Spanish way today (Thursday).

Cheslyn Hay Sport & Community High School in Saredon Road has been selected as one of the venues for the Valencia Club De Futbol roadshow. It is billed as a chance for players and coaches alike to learn from some of the best youth football coaches in the world.

The roadshow will visit 250 high schools throughout the country throughout September.

Taster

It offers school football coaches the opportunity to learn new systems different to the usual skills sessions and coaching drills.

At today's taster session a talented 13 and 15-year-old pupil will receive coaching from the Valencia Academy coaches in the morning and then participate in a seven-a-side tournament in the afternoon.

Valencia FC head academy coach Carlos De Lera said: "We are very excited to be given the opportunity to offer our skills and knowledge to over 250 high schools throughout the UK."

Action over fast drivers

POLICE chiefs will go to the High Court within the next eight weeks to ban thrill-seeking drivers using busy town centre roads in Cannock e as a race track.

Officers are trying to stop street racers gathering along the two-mile stretch between Longford island and the Orbital Retail Park. Police seeking an injunction have compiled a large folder of evidence which has been approved by lawyers. Officers are now awaiting a court date, expected to be set for six to eight weeks time.

The ruling would give them more powers to tackle the issue and would mean speeders could be fined or jailed for up to two years.

Collectors' fair

A COLLECTORS' and table top fair is being held at St Luke's Church Centre this weekend. Entry to Saturday's fair - from 10am to 1pm - is free and refreshments will be served. There will be more than 25 tables offering a variety of goods with all proceeds going to St Luke's Church funds.

Students do college proud as Games helpers

STUDENTS from South Staffordshire College returned from London last week after helping out at the 2012 Paralympics Games.

The college was selected by Olympics Organisers from the Get Set Network to provide Students to help spectators and visitors to the 'Great British Garden' with fun activities.

For four days the six students Andrew Jackson, from Cannock, Alex Roslow, of Hed-nesford, Rugeley's Ricky Meadows, Natalie Stoddard and Alicia Bailes, of Burntwood and Robert Spacey played games, painted faces, updated message boards and took part in sports sessions at the Olympic Park in East London.

In recognition of their hard work Chairman of London Organising Committee of the Olympics and Paralympics Games, Sebastian Coe, said: "The students running the activities in the Great British Garden in the Olympic Park have not only gained new leadership skills but have also provided the spectators with a fantastic addition to their London 2012 Games experience."

Chief Executive Principal at South Staffordshire College, Graham Morley, said: "This was a fantastic opportunity and, as ever, our students did us proud."

Doctors are 'hopeful' on launch of pilot scheme

DOCTORS who rejected Stafford Hospital's plans to reopen A&E overnight from next month said they were "hopeful" a 24-hour service would be restored in December.

The department will have been closed between 10pm and 8am for a year when a proposed pilot round-the-clock service is due to start. Even if it does begin in December, the pilot will offer a reduced service.

Cannock GP Dr Johnny McMahon said GP referrals and ambulance arrivals will "most probably" be accepted.

Speaking at a press conference over the A&E unit's future, Dr McMahon, chairman of the Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group, said: "We want to try and get the pilot up and running as soon as possible, and we're hopeful that can happen from December. But there's no guarantee."

Seriously ill patients who have suffered strokes or heart attacks will still be taken to specialist centres at New Cross and Stoke.

Unwell
Dr Ken Deacon, medical director of the Staffordshire Cluster of PCTs, said: "Evidence shows the most unwell patients do better at specialist hospitals, even after travelling further."

The panel of leading GPs and healthcare managers who announced their decision were grilled by Stafford MP Jeremy Lefroy, who said: "I am very disappointed that the commissioners do not believe that the substantial amount of work done at Stafford is sufficient for a 24/7 reopening of A&E to be possible now."

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley said the decision to delay the reopening risked sending A&E and the hospital "sliding ever further into decline".

"We will continue to work with our commissioners to deliver 24/7 local services for our community. We will not reopen against their wishes."

Cheryl Porter, a leading member of the Support Stafford Hospital Group which gathered 25,000 signatures calling for A&E to reopen, felt the trust board's verdict should have stood.

Walk-in patients to be turned away

HEALTH bosses have announced Stafford Hospital's A&E department will no longer accept walk-in patients overnight, even when it reopens round-the-clock.

A 24-hour service is expected to be restored on a pilot basis in December, after leading GPs decided it would be unsafe to allow A&E to reopen between 10pm and 8am from next month. It was shut last December amid concerns over patient safety due to staffing shortages.

GPs and healthcare managers told a press conference they were worried moving senior doctors onto night shifts would leave a shortage of experienced personnel during the day. They said the move threatened to reverse improvements the hospital has made in the last 10 months.

GPs confirmed that under plans they are drawing up, walk-in patients will be turned away during the overnight window. They will be accepted only if referred to Stafford by the GP out-of-hours service or taken there by ambulance.

Resume

The announcement that the October deadline for 24-hour opening would not be met was criticised by campaigners and politicians.

Stafford trust board members said earlier this month they believed they were ready to resume round-the-clock emergency care. However, their claims - based on a series of performance targets being met during daytime hours - were rejected by top GPs and healthcare managers.

Dr Ken Deacon, medical director of the Staffordshire Cluster of PCTs, said the decision had been heavily influenced by senior doctors at Stafford.

Around 15 ambulances a night will continue to be diverted to Walsall's Manor and Wolverhampton's New Cross hospitals, as well as other sites in Stoke-on-Trent and Burton, until the pilot scheme is approved.

Independent health watchdog Staffordshire Link said it was satisfied with the decision.

Doug takes the reins as volunteer at Paralympics

WHEN former mounted policeman Doug Smith broke his back in a fall from his horse in 1995, it opened up another world.

Doug has gone on to volunteer at three Paralympic Games and says: "It was the best thing that ever happened to me."

Dough, aged 61, is now a regional director and instructor with the Riding for the Disabled Association.

The charity helped to bring him out of a dark place as he verged on clinical depression in the aftermath of his horrific injury, and within a year he was in Atlanta helping at the first ever Paralympic equestrian event.

Four years later he volunteered at Sydney and it was only his commitments with the RDA that prevented him from also travelling to Athens and Beijing.

Abilities
Doug was able to volunteer for the London Games only after completing a 10-year stint as chairman of the RDA's flagship national championships event which brings together hundreds of competitors of all abilities in a range of riding events.

Four of the five British Paralympic riders at London came up through the Warwick-based organisation, including Staffordshire's Lee Pearson who won team gold, and individual silver and bronze.

Doug, of Belmont Avenue, Shoal Hill, describes the USA Games as "character-building", with disabled riders unable to use their own horses.

Instead they "borrowed" horses from a pool of around 100.

"There was an element of a lottery about it but in a way it was fairer because their performance was down to their own skills and not how good a

Doug Smith, who has been an equestrian volunteer at three Paralympics, with 14-year-old Olivia Wilson, 2016 Rio Games hopeful horse they were able to afford. Sydney was fantastic. Until London, it was the best Games. It was the last of the borrowed horses competitions but it was a slicker operation. I made friends with other volunteers in Australia and Atlanta who I still visit, and who come here to see me.

"But London was phenomenal—they got the planning so right, they got the right people in place and the public's response was excellent." Doug still rides a little - "although I shouldn't" - but is careful, avoiding "silly" horses and he no longer jumps.

He is currently helping to train 14-year-old Olivia Wilson, from Cannock, a blind rider and Rio hopeful, who is among 35 disabled riders based with the Stafford and District RDA group.

"It's not all about the Paralympics but there's no doubt that competition is therapy."

"I still miss my job till it hurts but my work with the RDA and the Paralympics is totally addictive."

Placement in hospitals for third-year students

Tidy-up by volunteers

Steve Degg and Tom Bentley, of McDonalds, and Councillor Pat Corfield VOLUNTEERS rolled up their sleeves to tidy up Cannock Chase.

Community members joined with staff from businesses like McDonalds and park rangers to help out with activities including clearing paths, trimming hedges, fixing signs, installing sleeper benches, building bird boxes and picking litter.

County councillor Pat Corfield, cabinet member for culture and communities, said: "Looking after the natural woodland and open heathland is quite a task and the help we get from volunteers is essential."

THIRD-YEAR medical students are to be placed in Cannock and Stafford hospitals for the first time as part of a continued bid to recruit high-quality doctors.

The Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust has for several years taken fourth and final year students from Keele medical school on its wards. The practice is part of their training to become qualified doctors. Bosses will now be taking on third-year students too.

The shortage of middle-grade doctors was behind the controversial overnight closure of Stafford Hospital's A&E.

Consultant Dr Nick Bosanko will teach the new intake.

Skills

The link with Keele University was set up 15 years ago and in 2009 the trust was granted associate teaching hospital status.

The scheme sees students work on the wards as well as being taught the skills they need. Professor Andrew Hassell, director of undergraduate programmes at Keele, said Mid-Staffordshire had proved an excellent placement for their fourth and final-year students.

"We are very pleased that Mid-Staffs is also going to host third-year students this year. We feel confident they will get a solid grounding in hospital medicine there," he said.

"On the day of their arrival at Stafford, before joining the medical staff, the students will each shadow a nurse for a shift."

Arrest in drugs raid

POLICE arrested a 20-year-old woman for possession with intent to supply after a drugs raid in Gaelic Road, Cannock. She was bailed pending further inquiries until November. Cocaine worth £15,000 was seized as well as almost £2,000 in cash.

Crew and cast earn plaudits of parents

WE are writing to express our congratulations to whole cast of Beauty and the Beast, which was performed at the Prince of Wales Centre in Cannock on August 25.

Our thanks and gratitude go to the director Adam and his loyal crew at ambient Night Productions who organised, arranged stage settings, lights, costumes, music, etc and for their ongoing support and involvement from the sidelines throughout the two-week preparation.

This all built up to the performance, which culminated in a fabulous show on the night.

It was clear to see all the children and young adults involved in the performance were focused and loved the production they put on during their summer holiday time.

Well done everyone.

Treat all sports with the same respect

I WATCHED the Paralympics with great admiration for those athletes who proved to all that you can compete on the world stage if you have a disability. I think because they have disabilities.

The LEXI was great because it showed people how the categories are worked out. The presenters were entertaining and funny. They showed great knowledge of the sport although they were working under restriction of a commercial television. This is the main reason for the letter.

When Lord Coe opened the Olympics, he stated that this was the Games where both abled and disabled people would show the world that Britain could outshine those that had come before. I was happy about this because it was great that the Paralympics would stand alone without being overshadowed by the able bodied.

I then became angry to find that they were being shown on Channel 4 as it could not provide the coverage that the BBC could. Most sports only had small coverage, whereas for the Olympics, the BBC showed heats and the finals.

This I believe is a sell off by the BBC because they were not interested in the Paralympics. The British Broadcasting Corporation is paid for by our television fees and as a payer of these fees, I demand that all sports, both abled and disabled are treated with the same respect.

I believe the Olympic committee of Britain had ruined the best opportunity to make the Paralympics a standalone event that would have equalled the Olympics in their own right. Maybe the BBC should stand for Business Before Country

Diabetes and link to obesity

I READ with interest the article about the £8.5m cost to treat diabetes (Chronicle, September 13).

The article explains the PCT's bill for treating the illness is linked to being overweight and that obesity is on the increase. While I am sure it is accurate, it grossly misrepresents the facts at its core.

At no point does the article state "Diabetes Type 2" which is pivotal. There are two types, Type 2 can be as a result of being overweight and in many cases is within the responsibility and control of the individual who may well have influenced this condition.

Type 1 is a condition where the body stops producing insulin and is not related to dietary condition and can happen at any time and cannot be prevented.

Sir Steve Redgrave has type 1 Diabetes - one of the best examples of why there is no link between Type 1 diabetes and obesity.

Government needs to put people first

LETTERS from Cannock councillors and ex-councillors are constantly bemoaning the actions of our current council, who are working with far less money than the previous who were no better. Its like reading a game of tennis.

Our MP is calling for a debate to make Cannock Hospital financially viable, but with even tighter budgets, this will only lead to further privatisation of our NHS.

I've come to the conclusion the last people with any idea of running anything is a politician, the Olympic Games has proved this. Seb Coe let the people who know how to produce a show do their job and the result was stunning, whereas London's Dome, run by politicians, was a joke.

This is our Britain, it's not there to be sold because of mismanagement by our politicians to appease the rich, but to be managed for the people. We need a government, both national and local who put the UK and its people first. Yet more reasons for a change of politics.

HELEN

Clear to see why many high streets struggle

IT'S about time local authorities and the Government got together and put a cap on how many supermarkets are being built around the UK.

Some towns and cities have got more than their fair share of them. It's not rocket science to see why high streets are ghost towns. Supermarkets buy goods in bulk, while the small shop trader only buys what they can afford and passes the extra cost onto the customer.

MRS B M BALL

Losers only in hollow Olympic legacy vow

WE have recently all experienced the euphoria of the Olympic games and the national pride which this has generated. How different this feels if you live in Cannock especially if you have any connection with athletics.

In 2009 the council closed the stadium at Pye Green and promised a replacement facility. What happened? It was bulldozed and now lies as a piece of waste ground.

Cannock athletics club lost half its members and the remainder moved to Stafford or Birmingham. The council now plans to "fight" Asda in the courts to get the £500k that was promised for sporting facilities on this site. Asda feels aggrieved to pay. Legal fees will probably eat up most of this.

I wonder how council officials feel when our current Government promises to build on the legacy of the Olympics? This promise sounds really hollow if you live in Cannock - no medals for Cannock Council or any prospective Olympic hopefuls who live there. Only losers if you live in Cannock.

BOILER SCRAPPAGE SCHEME IS BACK, GET A £400 VOUCHER FOR YOUR OLD BOILER

In 2010 the government ran a scheme in which domestic home owners could replace their expensive to run gas boiler for a new condensing boiler, this scheme was set up to help home owners with the initial cost of replacing the boiler plus helping the government in reaching its carbon emissions target.

The £400 voucher could be redeemed when replacing an old, inefficient central heating boiler for a new high efficient gas boiler.

APH Services Ltd of Rugeley have re introduced the Scrappage scheme for a limited time, Matt Clarke of APH Services Ltd said "the £400 voucher is a great way for local home owners to replace their boilers during these hard economic times."

Vouchers will be given to the first 100 customers meeting the criteria so you are advised to inform family and friends ASAP.

A rated gas condensing boilers are 90% efficient and with the correct thermostatic controls can save you 30% on your gas bill, that's up to £350 per year in an average 3 bed house.

Training on how to deal with behaviour at parks

She's a jolly good Fellows

Nellie Fellows of Hednesford, who was celebrating her 100th birthday

A GREAT-great-grandmother from Hednesford has celebrated her 100th birthday. Nellie Fellows enjoyed a party at Cannock Unionist Club to mark the milestone.

Born September 11, 1912, Mrs Fellows spent her early childhood in St John's Road in Cannock. Her husband, Laurie Fellows, a former miner, died around 30 years ago and the couple had just one daughter.

Mrs Fellows had two sons during her first marriage to Tom Shelley. Now, she has seven grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

POLICE support officers and park wardens are to get extra training in an effort to clamp down on anti-social behaviour in parks across Cannock Chase district.

The move has already been implemented at Cannock Park after residents living nearby complained about gangs of up to 20 youths hanging around causing trouble. It will now be widened to cover other areas.

A training day will take place on October 3 where all of the area's park wardens and PCSOs will be briefed on how to deal with troublemakers.

Councillor for Cannock south Maureen Freeman said the news would bring relief to thousands of residents across the district. Police, councillors, and around eight district park wardens will meet for the training day at Cannock Chase Council's offices in Beecroft Road.

Councillor Freeman said: "I am pleased to say it is the first time that we can say we are truly being listened to about this."

"We can't allow anti-social behaviour to continue. Parks are for everyone to use, for free, across the district."

Councillor John Kraujalis also welcomed the news. He said they would be given guidance on how to deal with a variety of situations.

Chief Inspector Carl Ratcliffe, of Cannock Police's policing team, said: "We want park wardens to know how they should deal with certain individuals. We want to put out a range of different scenarios to them and show them how they should deal with it."

Ramblers off in a 'Flash'

CHASE & District Ramblers will be off in a Flash on Sunday. The group heads off on a strenuous 11-and-a-half mile walk at England's highest village, including optional lunch stop. Meet for 8.30am at Hednesford rail station car park, Anglesey Street.

The carved head of of Edward III that looks down on the congregation

A Victorian etching of St Peter's, the oldest parts of which date to 1,200

The Lady Chapel, one of the first parts of the current church to be built

Why does a king look on the congregation?

WHERE does the name Wolverhampton come from and why could St Peter's Church have become a Cistercian Abbey?

Why does King Edward III look down on the congregation and who paid for the building of a grander church?

If you have an interest in the above questions, and would like to make a small donation towards the upkeep of our city's most important architectural and historical feature, take a look at the two recently produced fundraising booklets on sale.

Lady Wulfrun's Hampton and Wool Town Church give the answers and the story of how the Anglo-Saxon settlement of Heantun emerged from the Dark Ages with its Minster Church of St Mary.

Royalty in the form of Lady Wulfrun refounded the Minster with lands at Bilston, Willenhall,

By Anthony and Joyce Perry

Wednesfield, Pelsall, Featherstone and other outlying small settlements, and several priests, known as a "college", to look after their spiritual well-being.

The first dean in charge of this collegiate establishment, Sansome, was among those who were close to King William, and was responsible for his Domesday Survey of the country.

He became Bishop of Worcester, and annexed Wulfrehamtun or Wlurehamptona - the first forms of the full name of the town - to the Priory of Worcester.

King John, the Pope and the Archbishop of Canterbury agreed to replace the priests with a community of Cistercian monks and to build a new abbey about the year 1200, and the oldest parts of the existing church were the beginnings of this new building.

However, when the archbishop died the idea was abandoned and a new dean installed.

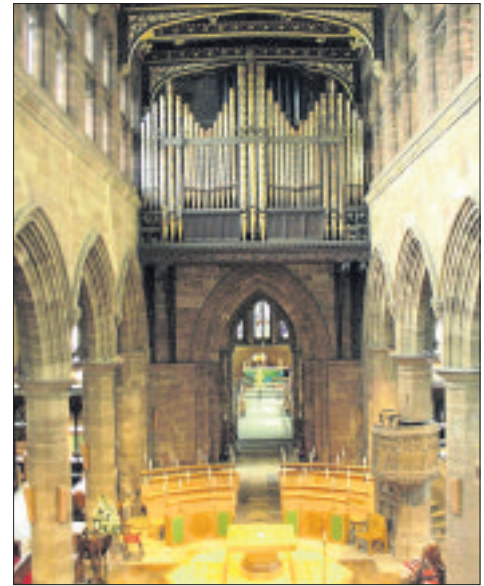

During the 13th and 14th centuries the dean in effect ran the town, with charters for a market, fair, borough, court and wool fair. The town became wealthy through the wool and cloth trade, with sheep brought in to be penned in the Folds, the most wealthy being the merchants, who paid for St Peter's to be enlarged and built in the grand style we see today.

The church was a Royal Free Chapel, answerable to the Crown, not the Bishops, and Edward III was one monarch who was responsible for Charters to the Dean and indirectly for much of the rebuilding in the 14th century, commemorated by his crowned bearded head being carved in the stonework above the nave arches.

Regular Sunday and weekday services are held in St Peter's, and the church is open from 10am to 4pm Monday to Friday, and 10am to 1pm on Saturdays.

Shop's stock sale strikes chord with music lovers

MORE than 400 people queued to pick up a bargain at a Cannock music shop which closed down after 28 years.

The crowd turned up at Musically Yours, which had been trading for 28 years before running into financial difficulties.

People began forming a line as early as 6.30am with the queue stretching all along Walsall Road.

Only a handful of people were allowed in the shop at a time and those at the front of the queue pressed their faces up to the window to eye-up potential purchases.

Some of the guitars, pianos and other items had up to 75 per cent off.

Pleased

Peter Matthews, aged 65, of Rawnsley Road in Hednesford, picked up two ukuleles at £5 a piece. They would normally cost £20 each. One is for himself and the other for his six-year-old granddaughter Lucy.

"I'm quite pleased with them to be honest. I queued since 8.45am."

Bosses blamed the recession for a decline in trade and the store closed earlier this year. Liquidators organised the clearance sale.

A range of instruments, amplifiers and speakers were all up for grabs.

Andrew Sykes, aged 43, from Huntington in Cannock, picked up an acoustic guitar, case, foot pedal, and violin, all for £180, triple the amount he would ordinarily have paid.

"I did not think there would be anything left. I am really pleased with these after having queued for a while," he said. Dean France, aged 38, of Wolverhampton Road in Cannock, also picked up an acoustic and electric guitar and amps for £45 instead of the normal £185. "What a bargain" he said. "I'm chuffed to bits."

The store, which opened in 1984, closed its doors in May.

Your Moyles on us, says pub in free breakfast offer

A CANNOCK pub and restaurant is offering a free breakfast to anyone named Chris Moyles or Nick Grimshaw.

The Orbital Brewers Fayre, in Eastern Way, is offering the meal to anyone who shares their name with either presenter. It is to mark the end of Chris Moyles' reign as Radio 1's breakfast show host. He is being replaced by Nick Grimshaw.

Brewers Fayre spokesman Emma Price said: "We can't think of a better way to celebrate this passing of the torch than by encouraging as many Chris Moyleses and Nick Grimshaws to come and join us."

Trust boon as ex-player Mills named as a patron

FORMER Wolves player Lee Mills has become the patron of a charity set up in memory of a young mother.

The ex-striker, who represented Wolves from 1992 to 1995, also played for Derby and Port Vale among other clubs and is supporting the Rugeley-based cause Trudy's Trust.

Former player Lee Mills

The charity was set up by Mark Leeson and his family following the death of his daughter from an aggressive brain tumour. Mills joins Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley who agreed to become a patron in July.

Trudy Shingler, a forensic psychologist and former West Midlands beauty queen, died in February last year aged 35.

The trust aims to raise awareness and £1 million for brain tumour research, as well as offer support to other families who find themselves in the same position.

Mr Leeson said: "It's fabulous news because Lee knows so many people in the game. He's a nice guy and will be a great figurehead for the charity."

Titles

Trudy, a former Aldridge Community School pupil, was diagnosed with a brain tumour in September 2010 and endured two operations and three months of chemotherapy before her death.

She had won a clutch of West Midlands and national beauty queen titles including those of Miss Wolves, Miss Aston Villa and Miss Walsall, as well as Miss Beautiful Eyes, Miss Wordsley, Miss Pelsall, Miss Sutton Coldfield, Miss Wednesbury and Miss River Severn.

The Rushall-born mother-of-one later concentrated on a probation services career, becoming Derbyshire Probation Service's first female forensic psychologist.

Top tips for healthy skin

DERMATOLOGY experts will be giving out tips on how to keep skin healthy at a talk in Cannock next month.

The conference room at Cannock Chase Hospital, in Beecroft Road, is the venue for the event on October 10 from 6-8pm. A consultant dermatologist is among those due to attend.

Dr Anne Ward said: "Whether you're a patient with a skin condition or just want to know how to keep your skin healthy, you're more than welcome to come along."

School open day

AN open evening for prospective students and their parents takes place at Norton Canes High School, Burntwood Road, from 6.30pm. Headteacher Sara Birchall will talk about the school's values.

Zumba classes make leisure centre return

ZUMBA sessions are back by popular demand at Penkridge Leisure Centre. They started last Thursday (September 13) from 6pm, while a new session of kick combat starts at 6pm on Monday, September 24 at the Cannock Road venue. The first session is free.

Cheerleading for children aged five to 16 will be available from Saturday October 6 from 11am.

Bookings are also being taken for the half-term holiday programme. Activities will include circus skills, zombie drumming, ghostly crafts and gymnastics from October 29 to November 2. Sessions run from 10am to 3pm daily.

Call 01785 714152 to book or visit www.sstaf.gov.uk/sussed for a full programme.

Labour announces parliamentary hopeful

Prospective parliamentary candidate, deputy council leader Councillor Janos Toth with Labour Party supporters

A CANNOCK Chase councillor has been selected as the Labour parliamentary candidate for Cannock at the next general election.

Councillor Janos Toth is currently the deputy leader of Cannock Chase Council and cabinet member for the environment. He said: "The double dip recession which has been imposed by the Conservative-led government is harming the lives of thousands of people, especially the young who have yet to have a chance of finding work.

"During the next few months I will build on my work as a local councillor and will meet many more people. There is an important job to be done in ensuring that Cannock Chase has a parliamentary representative that we can be proud of."

£40k cost of food waste

MORE than £40,000 of food was thrown out at Stafford and Cannock hospitals in just 12 months.

Figures released under the Freedom of Information Act show a total of 28,828 meals were discarded last year.

It follows news that the catering service at both hospitals is losing £500,000 a year. Bosses plan to close Cannock Hospital's kitchen and transport meals 11 miles from Stafford.

Figures for the financial year 2011/12 show 360,358 patient meals were produced. Of these, eight per cent – or 28,828 – were thrown away.

Cannock Chase District Council leader George Adamson said it was a high amount of food to waste, adding the proposed changes could only make matters worse.

"The trust's proposed plans are likely to mean they have more waste as people don't want reheated food," he said.

Discarded

"When people are feeling poorly, they don't always feel hungry, so there will always be some waste. But this figure does seem a high amount."

During 2011/12, Mid-Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust spent £1.42 per meal to feed one patient. This meant a total of £40,935.76 of food was thrown away.

Figures for the number of discarded meals for 2010/11 were not available. However, 374,879 meals were produced in total. During 2010/11 it cost 4p less – £1.38 – to feed a patient.

Under the shake-up Nightingales restaurant at Stafford will close at weekends as the trust battles a deficit. Chief executive Lyn-Hill Tout has said the trust ended up with a deficit of just under £20m while this year's planned deficit was £15m.

Mid-Staffordshire Trust was unavailable for comment.

Festivalgoers and high street store aid Newlife

A MAJOR music festival has raised hundreds of pounds for a Cannock-based national charity that helps disabled children. The Newlife Foundation, based in Hemlock Way, Hawks Green, asked high street retailer River Island to host a "pop-up shop" at this year's Reading Festival.

The retailer gave away 4,000 T-shirts and pairs of jeans in return for festival-goers' cast-offs. The used clothing is being recycled by Newlife for its textile value. The total recycling value of the clothing is £293 which will be used to fund one of the charity's sensory Kit Boxes. Newlife lead nurse Karen Dobson said: "The Newlife Kit Box scheme was launched to help alleviate financial burden and to enable children to trial equipment."

Toast raised to new pub at care home

Staff Dean Wood and Donna Marshall with residents Maria Harbridge, aged 90 and Fred Ward, 86

RESIDENTS at a Great Wyrley care home can now relax and pass their time away in their very own pub.

The Lakeside Returns, complete with a traditional bar, stools and even a piano, opened last weekend at Waters Edge with a Hawaiian-themed party.

Residents can drink for free but family and friends have been asked to make donations. Donna Marshall, aged 28 from Bloxwich, is a team leader at the nursing home and said the pub was made possible thanks to fundraising.

She said residents were loving the new addition as it was somewhere where they could socialise and relax together, playing darts or cards. She added that it also brought back happy memories for them all.

Deputy home manager Gail Hall was also heavily involved in the project, with her 26-year-old builder nephew Sean Rowley creating the bar over eight weeks, free of charge.

He said: "I was here for the party to open the pub and there were a lot of people here. It's something a little bit different."

Fellow resident Maria Harbridge, aged 90, said: "It was a lovely idea. I like Campari and lemonade. It's nice we have somewhere to go and have a drink."

Organist tickets available

TICKETS are still available for a concert by organist Jean Martyn in Lichfield next weekend. The Britain's Got Talent finalist, a former Cannock school music teacher, is appearing at King Edward VI School on Saturday, September 29, for a Parent Teacher Association musical cheese and wine fundraiser. She will be on stage from 7-10pm with tickets on sale from S&J Music in Bird Street, Lichfield, and the school's main Bader reception in King's Hill, off Upper St John Street, during school hours. They are £7 for adults, £5 for students and £20 for a family, including refreshments.

Kay, 91,
clocks up the miles

CANNOCK WI

PRESIDENT Stella Winfield wished a very happy birthday to Susan Brookes and Agnes Overton.

Special wishes went to Doris Westwood, who has been in hospital but is now home and improving. Rosemary Larkin also continues to get better.

The Federations Big Walk Little Splash competition has shown some very fit ladies. Over four months, 91-year-old Kay Mathews clocked 4,980km walking daily to the shops and back. Bronwyn Pace has walked 127 miles with the Ramblers and Susan Brookes clocked 100 miles from daily swims. Margaret Walker walked in five different countries and Chris Pace, Joan Brazier and Stella Winfield all walked more than 50 miles.

The SFWI Summer Celebration at Stafford Showground was a success. June Fox won £30 worth of meat.

An invitation from the Chairman of Cannock Chase Male Probus Club to their annual luncheon on October 11 at the Terrace Restaurant was accepted.

A skittle and buffet evening at the Hen House has been arranged in October and a visit to the Shopping Outlets at Trafal Park on November 4.

Guest Nigel Wiggin spoke about the family chain-making business that branched out in Old Hall giftware.

October's meeting is a social morning, with quiz, bingo and sales table and complimentary fresh scones.

Members hail Old Hall visit a success

The grounds of Moseley Old Hall, Wolverhampton, where WI members paid a visit

THERE were three visitors to the September meeting, which got the evening off to a good start.

The visit to Moseley Old Hall was pronounced a success. "Denman Dip" was explained, members put £1 in an envelope, seal it, put their name and institute on the front and with a bit of luck get a weekend at the wonderful college. Photographs are needed for 2014 Staffordshire Federation calendar.

The reading group will be discussing "Wide Sargasso Sea" at its next meeting.

ASTON-BY-STONE WI

Speaker was Raymond Rush who was brought up on a farm in Norfolk and farmed in Shropshire. His talk was entitled Country Customs. He enlivened his talk with many farming anecdotes and brought along old farming implements. The competition "a farm animal" was won by Lucy Salt and the raffle by Grace Basset.

The club meets on the second Wednesday of every month at 7.30pm at the village hall.

Back to the 50s and 60s

THE annual Harvest supper was held with the food being provided by the members, half bringing savoury dishes and the other half sweet.

As usual, everyone came up trumps. The individual tables had been decorated with red, white and blue napkins and a small bouquet of flowers in a wine goblet, placed in the centre.

There was also a raffle the

BONEY HAY AND CHASE TERRACE WI

prizes being three basket of harvest produce, kindly given by one of the committee.

Everyone joined in to clear up after the meal and were eager to take part in a short quiz which had been set by a committee member. There were no prizes for the winning table but it seemed all enjoyed it for the fun.

The next meeting will take members back to the 1950s/60s and it is hoped all will join in the spirit.

The president thanked everyone who had contributed to such a successful evening.

Sharing secrets is Key to happy marriage

Ronald and Violet Keyte mark their diamond wedding

A HUSBAND and wife from Burntwood have celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary.

Ronald, 82, and Violet Keyte, 79, of Chase Road, Burntwood, celebrated 60 years of marriage on Thursday, September 13.

The couple married at St Luke's Church, Kingstanding, Birmingham, after meeting at the cinema as teenagers.

Mrs Keyte said: "We met at the Odeon in Birmingham. I was 16 and working there at the time and Ronald had come to watch a film. He came and spoke to me after I finished work and asked to meet up the next evening on my night off."

The couple courted for two years before marrying and having three children, Stephen, 54, Christine, 56, and Robert, 58 who each have two children of their own.

Mrs Keyte added: "I think the key to a long and happy marriage like ours is to share everything. We keep no secrets and tell each other everything."

Delays just not the ticket

AN events company in Cannock is being investigated over delivery delays to almost 200 V Festival tickets.

Worried customers confronted staff at Find U Tickets about the problems, with the police being called on three separate occasions to keep the peace.

The company's boss ended up delivering tickets himself because of the delays and even had to travel to the festival at Weston Park to hand over the remaining tickets. Patrick Corfield, Staffordshire County Council cabinet member for culture and communities, said: "We have received complaints about the sale of V Festival tickets by Find U Tickets in Cannock."

"Our Trading Standards officers are in contact with the company."

People had been promised their tickets by the Tuesday before the festival and headed to the outlet, in Cannock Shopping Centre, when they failed to arrive. Darryl Kenyon, who runs the business with two other family members, said he was promised 196 tickets by the Tuesday but only 21 arrived.

He admitted there had been problems. But he claimed 192 of those 196 had received their tickets in time. Four people opted for refunds instead.

Mr Kenyon said he used three different ticket suppliers, but would not reveal their identities or what the nature of the problems were.

He said just 50 tickets would be issued next year.

Show back at NEC and it's even bigger

THE caravan and motorhome industry's national showcase, The Motorhome & Caravan Show, returns to the NEC this autumn (October 16-21) bigger and better than ever, one whole hall bigger!

And the Chronicle series has teamed up with the organisers to give away 10 pairs of tickets.

The Motorhome & Caravan Show is the only place to see all the brand new 2013 models of caravans, motorhomes, holiday homes, lodges, and accessories from the leading UK and European manufacturers and dealers hot off the production line.

Guest

And there will be experts on hand to offer free motorhome and caravan manoeuvring lessons and information and advice on a wide range of subjects, from, technical issues, security, insurance and finance to how to tow safely both in the UK and abroad.

Master baker Paul Hillywood and ex-England scrum-half-turned-culinary-genius, Matt Dawson MBE, will make special guest appearances.

See Paul live in the show's Cockery Theatre on Wednesday, October 17 or see Matt on Saturday, October 20, where they promise to entertain visitors with live demonstrations full of inspiring ideas and advice for creating delicious meals in minutes.

This regular show is always guaranteed to draw the crowds

With a range of free activities, from indoor archery to pétanque (French boules) there is something to keep the whole family entertained.

If you are not a lucky winner, advance tickets start at £7 for seniors (60+ years) and £8 for adults. Accompanied under-16s are admitted free.

Advance tickets must be purchased before October 15 and are subject to a £1 transaction fee. On-the-door tickets are £9 for seniors (60+) and £10 for adults. Visit www.motorhomeandcaravanshow.co.uk or call 0844 338 7799.

Blooming great efforts

FLORAL enthusiasts are celebrating after winning a silver award at this year's Heart of England in Bloom competition.

Burntwood, which hosts its own In Bloom contest, entered the national competition for the first time this year and received a silver award for its efforts at a presentation in Kings Heath, Birmingham.

Town council chairman Councillor Rod Campbell said: "I am delighted to have done so well in our first attempt in the regional competition."

"I hope the competition will continue to thrive so that we might do even better next year."

The council hosted its own annual Burntwood in Bloom presentation evening last Friday night to congratulate everyone who took part.

Winners were: Red, white and blue competition, Burntwood News; Best commercial premises, Rawlins Tyres; Best dressed shop or office window, The Party Box; Best community project or premises, Little Owl preschool nursery; Best under-12s project, St Joseph & St Theresa RC Primary School; Best rear garden, Anthony Sorrell; Best front garden, Warren Baggott; Best container or trough, May Boulton; Best hanging basket, May Boulton; Best pub or club, The Wych Elm; Individual ward winners were

Burntwood News, Pat and Trevor Tuffnell, Anthony Sorrell, St Anne's Church and Warren Baggott.

The overall winners for combined best front and rear gardens were the Tuffnells, who were also named judges' favourite entry. Mrs Tuffnell said: "We had never entered before and were in shock when we won awards."

Carole Knox, manager of the Wych Elm, Bridge Cross Road, Chase Terrace, said: "It came as quite a surprise when we won. It is really nice to be recognised for our efforts."

Warren Baggott said: "I was overjoyed when I won because although I spend a lot of time in the garden, it is just a hobby."

Jobseeker's allowance claimants on the rise

THE number of people claiming jobseeker's allowance has risen across Staffordshire, with Cannock continuing to have the highest rate of claimants.

The town's total was up 38 to 2,291 – which is equivalent to 3.7 per cent of the working population. In Stafford, the number rose 20 to 1,808 – totalling 2.3 per cent – and in Lichfield it was up eight to 1,413, 2.3 per cent.

For South Staffordshire, there was a rise of 28 to 1,735 or 2.6 per cent. Chamber of commerce chiefs said staff cuts weren't always the answer.

Sue Cooke, spokesman for the Birmingham and Staffordshire Chamber of Commerce said: "One of the things we are saying is that companies shouldn't react quickly and cut staff."

Fragile

"We are saying cutting hours is a much better way of coping with the downturn in the economy.

"We are in a fragile and unpredictable economy, we have a great deal of overcapacity."

"During the deep recession of the 1980s, firms were too quick to cut staff."

"As a result, when the economy picked up, many businesses were unable to meet new demand and grow as quickly as they should have."

"Reducing hours will keep skilled staff, contacts and experience in-house."

Across the West Midlands, the rate is 4.8 per cent and the total was up 1,376 to 164,666.

In Wolverhampton, the numbers claiming jobseeker's allowance rose 79 to 12,351 – 8.1 per cent – but in Walsall there was a fall of six to 10,429 or 6.6 per cent.

Chris Plant, area manager for Chase and Lichfield and Tamworth Chamber of Commerce, said: "Manufacturing, the industrial heritage of the West Midlands is what is driving employment opportunities upwards."

"The West Midlands is well placed to become an engine of growth and job creation in the UK."

"Our businesses are increasingly export driven and are breaking into emerging markets which is translating into strong growth and job creation at home."

Wild in the woods

Staffordshire ecological services chief ecologist Dave Hasleam and Councillors Diane Evans and Steve Taylor A MEADOW at a Burntwood burial site is set to be transformed with wildflowers.

Town council chiefs have forged ahead with plans to spruce the land up and create a wildflower meadow at Coulter Lane burial ground in St Matthew's Road.

The flowers are expected to have fully bloomed in time for next summer. Mary Danby, clerk of Burntwood Town Council, said: "Sowing wildflower will make it a nicer area for people to be in."

"The place has needed some much-needed tender loving care – there's very little you can do to a site of that nature."

"We should see some of the flowers through next summer. "One side of the meadow is wildflower and the other is woodland area under trees."

All work to the meadow has been carried out in the last month.

Lupus support meeting

THE next Lupus Support Group meeting is on Tuesday, September 25 from 6.30pm in the Davy Unit meeting room at Cannock Hospital. It offers the chance for people living with lupus to meet and share experiences with others as well the opportunity for anyone looking to find out more or offer their support to join up.

Sofia's many flavours of Italy will help charities

Taste of Italy - Dmitrius Jones, manager at Sofia's Italian Restaurant, is holding Italian Regional Charity Nights at the restaurant

A WALSALL restaurant is encouraging customers to enjoy food from the diverse regions of Italy while raising money for charity.

Sofia's Italian Restaurant, at the historic Guildhall, in High Street, is hosting Italian regional charity nights every Thursday.

The special evenings include a Napoli night as the city is famous for its pizza and a Bologna where spaghetti and meatballs will be the speciality. Other regional nights include a Sardinia night with sea bass as the speciality and Tuscany evening where a chicken dish will be served.

Those who order the speciality on regional night will receive a free glass of wine, beer or soft drink and garlic ciabatta bread.

Restaurant manager Dmitrius Jones said: "Italy has a very diverse range of speciality dishes which originate from different regions throughout the country. I thought it would be great to give people the opportunity to come and try the different foods."

"It is also an opportunity to raise money for a charity or a local good cause each week."

Romantic

Sofia's is situated in a 15th century town centre building and provides an excellent location for a romantic meal, as my partner and I discovered. There were plenty of diners at the time, making an all-round better atmosphere. Yet that did not diminish the quality of service or food.

I started with La Polpetta Napoli, spicy meatballs in a Napoli sauce, before tucking in to a spaghetti frutti di mare, combining a passion for pasta with my love of fish. Sharon's choice was a chicken pasta, and there are a host of fish, meat and chicken dishes to choose from, all made with traditional Italian ingredients. There's an extensive wine list, as one would expect, but I chose to wash mine down with Peroni beer, and followed it with a fruit salad dessert.

A three-course meal would set diners back around £20 - a price worth paying for an authentic taste of Italy and in such a unique setting. To book call (01922) 632223.

Life's no drag for Adam

Young Cannock dragster Adam Withington, aged eight
A YOUNG Chase petrolhead has made history by becoming Cannock's first eight-year-old to get a drag racing licence. Thrill seeker Adam Withington is preparing to start racing in the UK Junior Stock Dragster Championship. The championship features 10 drivers from across Europe and the UK who race in scaled down drag cars with a tuned lawnmower engine that runs on methanol. The cars can reach speeds of around 50 miles per hour. Dad David, aged 31, is an accomplished driver himself in the Sportsman ET race series. He said: "Adam is pretty fearless but he understands the dangers." Sponsorship is being sought to improve Adam's chances of success. Get in touch at sponsor@hazarddragracing.com

Pamper night for charity

LADIES are invited to a fundraising shopping and pamper night in Great Wyrley next week. County Councillor Kath Perry will be at the event, at Old Wyrley Hall, Olde Hall Lane, on Monday, September 24 from 7pm. All proceeds will go towards her chosen charities for the year. Exhibitors will be offering goods at discounted prices with items including beauty products, jewellery, chocolate and cup cakes and crafts. Raffle prizes are also up for grabs with Councillor Perry's charities also benefiting.

Lorry driver in toll road U-turn given ban for year

A POLISH driver did a U-turn in the middle of the M6 Toll before careering up the hard shoulder in the wrong direction during rush hour, a court heard.

Damion Czarnocki has been banned from getting behind the wheel for 12 months.

He drove in the wrong direction for four miles between junction T6 at Brownhills and junction T7 for the A34 Walsall Road.

Magistrates heard how Czarnocki was part of a five vehicle convoy of rental cars being delivered from a firm in Manchester to the south.

However, the 20-year-old's boss summoned him back to the office unexpectedly and he lost the four other cars and ended up on the toll road by mistake.

Realising he was going in the wrong direction and that he had no money to pay the toll, Czarnocki did a U-turn in lanes one and two as he approached the T6 junction booths in his Skoda.

Mrs Sonia Durrant-Clarke, prosecuting, said he travelled in the wrong direction along the hard shoulder.

Police were alerted and sent a patrol car at 7.45am on August 23. Czarnocki, of Oxford Road, Manchester, admitted dangerous driving at Penton magistrates court.

Lorry driver Czarnocki

In mitigation, Andrew Bennett said: "It was a single incident and little or no danger occurred."

Magistrates disqualified him from driving for 12 months, ordered him to carry out 80 hours of community service and pay £85 costs. Czarnocki lost his job as a result of the incident.

FOCUS ON HEDNESFORD

Lottery bid submitted to provide youth club

YOUNG people in Hednesford could receive a new youth club if a recent lottery bid is successful.

More than 4,000 people had their say on how £2.6m should be spent to re-develop Hednesford Park in July, with many requesting it to become a place for teenagers and young people.

Councillors will find out in December if their bid has been successful and are continuing with their plans to improve the historic park.

Lynn Evans, Friends of Hednesford Park chairman, said: "We need facilities for kids and a youth club would be really great for them."

"We need somewhere young people can go and have fun and enjoy the park because it has so much potential."

"If we don't get the bid we will still carry on with the improvements, particularly in the car park which is full of potholes."

Members of the Heritage Lottery Fund will visit the park next month to see how the money could benefit the community.

£50m Tesco store in heart of town now taking shape

Butlers serve up 50 years of marriage

John and Jean Butler celebrate their golden anniversary

FIFTY years of a golden marriage are being toasted by a Hednesford couple who met as teenagers.

John Butler caught the eye of his wife Jean when she was 13 years old and used to walk past the timber merchant yard he worked at as a teenager.

John said: "I was still at school and would walk past, I was only 13 at the time and we got talking and that was it."

The couple married on September 1, 1962, at Cannock's St Luke's Church and went on to have two children, Gary, now 43 with a boy and a girl of his own, and Dawn, 48, who has one son.

The Butlers pictured on their wedding day back in 1962

Before retiring, Mrs Butler spent her time as a local government secretary working for Walsall Council. Mr Butler spent 45 years as a self-employed window cleaner.

The couple celebrated their milestone, with a party of around 80 people, at Old Wyrley Hall, Great Wyrley.

A NEW 85,000sq ft Tesco supermarket which will sit at the heart of Hednesford's £50m rebirth is gradually taking shape.

The store is expected to create 600 jobs and is the cornerstone of the town's transformation. It is due for completion by the end of the year.

The outer frame is all but complete, made up of a modern mix of metal and glass. The building is on stilts, below which will sit a 640-space covered car park. The Tesco store is part of the 9.1-acre redevelopment of the Victoria Street area.

It will sit alongside a terrace of shops, which together will deliver 38,000 sq ft of commercial space to the area.

Confirmed

St Modwen development surveyor Mark Watkins said: "Everything is still on track to open for Christmas trading and the first week of December."

Discount supermarket Aldi has already confirmed a store and announced it will create 25 new jobs. There will also be a Costa Coffee, Pets Corner and Lloyds Building work at Tesco Pharmacy opening at Victoria Shopping Park.

Construction began on the 10-acre regeneration project for Hednesford town centre in April after developer St Modwen was granted consent.

An area fronting Market Street, Rugeley Road and Victoria Street will include a purpose-built building for Hednesford Bingo and new retail units.

There will be a 165-space car park on Chase Gateway, 121 of them for short-stay shoppers with 44 managed by Cannock Chase Council for long-stay parking.

Group on lookout for new pianist

A PIANO accompanist is being sought to help out a ladies' choir. Songbirds in Harmony rehearse on Mondays from 7.30pm at St Joseph's Catholic Primary School at Hill Top, Hednesford. A pianist is needed to accompany them initially on an ad-hoc basis. Call Annette Scott on 07557 052711.

Crusaders scoot in to raise cash for charity

A SCOOTER club has given more than £500 to a local charity after a successful fundraiser in Hednesford.

This is the second year that members of Cannock Crusaders have held the event at Woody's music bar in Market Street.

Around 120 scooters turned up to the event, in July that featured face painting, a barbecue and bouncy castle along with music from a number of local bands.

All proceeds have gone to Cannock-based charity, Special Needs Adventure Playground (SNAP), a purpose-built facility specifically for children with special needs.

Suzanne Newell, manager at the centre, said: "SNAP is totally reliant on self-funding. As well as heating, lighting, staffing costs we increasingly have to replace worn equipment, so help from organisations like Cannock Crusaders is vital to help us keep running the service we offer."

Crusaders club chairman Kevin Hall said: "It was a brilliant day."

Coffee morning

A COFFEE morning in aid of Macmillan takes place at a Hednesford's Trinity Church on Saturday (September 22) from 10am. Members of the congregation have been asked to donate cakes in memory of a friend or relative.

New beginnings

NEW Beginnings is the theme of a messy church session at Trinity Church, Hednesford, this weekend. The two-hour sessions takes place on September 23 from 3pm and will include stories, crafts and food.

'Red Card Roy' and the ugly side of the beautiful game

IN the 1970s English football produced someone better than George Best.

Roy McDonough was not a better player but, when it came to women and drinking, he was in a different league.

Now, in Red Card Roy (Vision Sports Publishing, £12.99), he is telling the story of his life in football. This is not about the beautiful game but the brutal, ugly underside of it.

McDonough was one of six children brought up in Olton, near the Land Rover plant at Solihull. He ominously got sent off when he was playing in the Birmingham Schools' Cup Final. He lost it and throttled the referee. A six-month suspension followed.

This was a taste of things to come as hard man McDonough went on to set an English record for being sent off 22 times during a 20-year career spanning seven league clubs, 650 games, 150 goals, 400 women and thousands of pints.

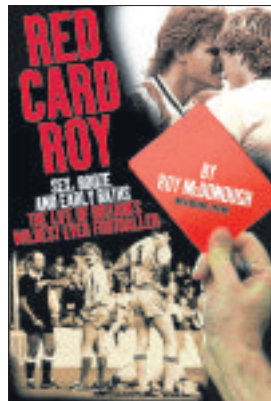

Saddlers

He received his first setback when Aston Villa decided he was not good enough. His dad, Jim, got him in at Birmingham City.

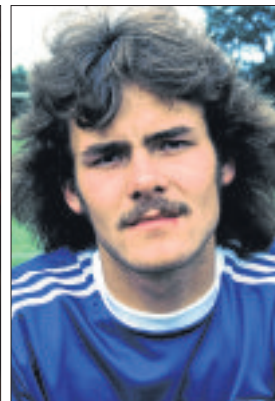

In 1977 aged 18, he scored in his second game for the Blues but it would prove to be his only one. Roy never got another chance in the first team, which he felt he deserved. He started to lose his discipline on and off the pitch.

He was sold to Third Division Walsall for £15,000. In his arrogance, Roy thought he could be out drinking 10 pints a night and still be a star but Walsall were relegated.

The book tells of McDonough's run-ins with manager Alan Buckley and the fans. The falling out with the Saddlers came when Buckley tried to cut his wages. Surprisingly, down and sinking a pint in seven seconds. Red Card Roy is a riotous read filled with the kind of trivia fans love. He tells who was the hardest defender he ever faced, who was the toughest man he played alongside and also fires a volley at ex-Wolves boss Mick McCarthy. But for all his tabloid-type escapades, McDonough's book is ultimately a story of love and redemption. There are five main characters: McDonough, football, alcohol, his dad and wife Liz.

Roy McDonough's autobiography

McDonough at Birmingham City

McDonough is now 53 and happily settled in Spain. His legendary drinking is over but he will still have a bottle of wine with a meal. Cheers, Roy.

Church looks for help in setting up food bank

A CANNOCK church is calling on volunteers to help set up food distribution centres. Pye Green Christian Centre, on Pye Green Road, has already enlisted the help of more than a dozen churches in the district.

They are working under the guidance of the Trussell Trust, a national charity that has opened more than 200 similar food banks. The project aims to serve the Cannock, Hednesford, Heath Hayes, Norton Canes, Burntwood, Huntington, Great Wyrley and Cheslyn Hay areas.

The church is initially asking for volunteers to help fund, stock and sort the central food warehouse. Meetings are being held tomorrow (Friday) at 2.30pm and on Tuesday (September 25) from 7pm to explain the project details.

Company is set to play a leading role in expedition

BRITISH explorer Sir Ranulph Fiennes has teamed up with a Cannock-based heavy equipment plant for his record-breaking trek across the Antarctic this winter.

Finning engineer Spencer Smirl, from Canada, will join Fiennes in his attempt to cross the continent on foot during the coldest time of the year.

Sir Ranulph Fiennes in front of a Finning D6N

He was personally selected by the 68-year-old adventurer to drive and maintain the tractor that will pull their specially-designed living quarters.

Together, the team will travel nearly 2,500 miles, braving temperatures as low as -90°C to conduct scientific tests providing unique data on marine life, oceanography and meteorology.

Mr Smirl said: "It is a once in a lifetime opportunity that will test man and machine to the limits."

Towing

For the past two years, a team of Finnings engineers has been working on the design and manufacture of two D6N track-type tractors at the company's Watling Street headquarters. Led by Andy Thomas, they were tasked with designing a unit that would work at temperatures as low as -70°C.

Pub makes Beer Guide

A CANNOCK pub has earned recognition for the quality of its real ale.

The Linford Arms, in Market Place, was chosen by members of the town's Campaign for Real Ale (CAMRA) branch, making it the only Cannock pub to be listed in the organisation's Good Beer Guide 2013.

Judges based the decision on regular visits to check the quality of ales available, as well as on customer service, décor and atmosphere.

Pub manager Andy Newman said: "I am delighted that The Linford Arms has been recognised for the quality of its real ales."

A CAMRA spokesman said: "It is our belief that if a licensee serves an excellent pint of real ale, then everything else in the pub is likely to be of an equally high standard."

Coffee morning

A COFFEE morning is being held at Bridgton shop Whimsical on September 28. It is at 10.30am at the shop in North Street. Proceeds will go to Macmillan Cancer Support.

Care home lines up fun Country & Western day

RESIDENTS at a Great Wyrley care home are lining up for some dancing fun - Country & Western style.

Lakeview Care Home, in Stafford Road, is holding the Country & Western day today (Thursday), with two professional line dancers leading the fun.

The home will be decorated for the event and residents and staff will even look the part with their own cowboy hats. A Country & Western lunch will be provided with buffalo wings, loaded potato skins and Tex Mex dips on the menu.

Activities co-ordinator Chris Carr said: "We've had a line dancing show here before which went down a storm, but the residents didn't really get to take part, so everyone's really excited about getting more involved in the Country & Western day."

Discover Day offers the chance of Segway safari

OUTDOOR enthusiasts can discover what Cannock Chase has to offer next weekend.

Segway safaris are proving a massive hit at Birches Valley and a free taster session is on offer at the Discovery Day next Sunday (September 30).

There will also be bird of prey displays, chance to inspect a hi-tech timber harvester and den building sessions, along with mountain bike skills sessions, trailbuilding demos by Chase Trails and kids crafts.

Activities take place from noon till 4pm at Birches Valley Visitor Centre. For further information and to download a leaflet of activities, go to www.forestry.gov.uk/discoveryday

£6m college revamp may lead to extra 450 students

UP TO 450 extra students could be taken on at South Staffordshire College when the £6m rebuild of its Cannock campus is completed.

Principal Graham Morley said the student roll could rise by between 10 and 15 per cent following the refurbishment. It could see numbers at the campus swell from 3,000 to 3,450 and possibly lead to new jobs.

Ceiling firm sounds off over call-up to exhibition

A RUGELEY company which markets a state-of-the-art invention to solve noise problems generated by hotels, wedding venues, discos, clubs and bars is showing off the technology at the UK's only outdoor event exhibition.

Sound Ceilings is exhibiting at The Showman's Show at Newbury Showground, Berkshire, on October 17 and 18.

Sound Ceilings supply acoustic ceilings which direct sound into the area required – usually a dance-floor – but reduces it dramatically for anyone outside that area.

Deadens

Using technology first developed in Sweden, the system reduces sound by as much as 50 per cent just a few metres away from the dancefloor, and deadens it completely further away.

Sound Ceilings is a sister company to GMP Design and Kribensis Leisure Contracts and is based at the Towers Business Park.

Sound Ceilings owner Neil Morten said: "A significant drop-off in sound can be heard as soon as you step outside the column of sound created."

"Not only does it stop noise escaping the site, it allows sound to be directed to zoned areas."

"The days of the noisy neighbour are limited," he said.

The project is on track to finish next September with the main focal point being of the building in The Green – a former mining college – being a new glass-roofed atrium at its centre.

Mr Morley said: "The location of our campus is at the heart of the community and the new development should encourage even more people to learn new skills."

"Being recognised for two consecutive years as the most successful college in the county as well as having modern facilities to learn in may well lead to increased numbers coming to us."

Increase

Mr Morley said: "Some colleges in the UK who have had major improvements to their buildings have seen a 10 to 15 per cent increase when their college also delivers a high-quality service."

"We've already seen an increase in the number of people choosing South Staffordshire College as their first choice."

"I'm sure when we have even better facilities, we will see even more people flocking to Cannock."

Mr Morley added: "More students could lead to more jobs not just for teachers but also support staff."

During the refurbishment, courses will still be delivered in Cannock, either at the Progress Centre, at the White House or Crown House in Beecroft Road.

Pub's fundraiser

A BURNTWOOD pub is hosting a family fun day in aid of Help for Heroes. The Wych Elm, Bridge Cross Road, Chase Terrace, will hold an all day event with bands, musicians and rides from 12pm until 11pm on Saturday.

Boy trapped under van is airlifted to hospital

A FOUR-year-old boy was airlifted to hospital after becoming trapped under a van in Chadsmoor.

The incident happened in Benion Road at around 6.15pm on Monday. A community first responder was backed up by two ambulances, an emergency doctor and the Midlands Air Ambulance.

An Ambulance Service spokesman said: "The van had come to rest on the youngster's foot. Members of the public helped to lift the car off. The child was examined and found to have scrapes and bruises, plus pain in his leg, neck and back."

The helicopter landed on recreation land in Wrights Avenue and the boy was airlifted to University Hospital North Staffordshire. The driver was uninjured.

Quick-witted comic finds inspiration in his audience

LIVE

Jason Byrne, Wulfrun Hall
WHATEVER Irish comedian Jason Byrne had planned went completely out of the window during the first half of his Wolverhampton gig.

It was all going so well as the 'People's Puppeteer' took to the stage in a gimp mask and, er something else, for a routine about Fifty Shades of Grey.

Embarrassed to find a 14-year-old boy and his brother sitting in the front row, the madcap comic had to tone it down.

"What did you expect, a real puppet show?" he asked the dad of the teenage boys.

Quick-witted Byrne fended off any heckling, though it was clear the crowd was only trying to join in with the fun.

Dylan's Titanic epic

ALBUM

Bob Dylan - Tempest

IN OLD age 1960s icon Bob Dylan has hit fine form, provided you can take the gravitas of a gravel voice that sounds as old as a fossil.

Dylan and his faultless band have a sound that is steeped in the old time music of America, from blues and folk to waltzes and murder ballads.

Much has been made of the title - The Tempest was Shakespeare's last play - but the long title track is a description of the sinking of The Titanic, blending fact, fancy and movie fiction. Is it Leonardo DiCaprio or Da Vinci that gets a name check?

Now Johnny Cash has gone, nobody is better than Dylan at fire and brimstone, and lots of his characters in these songs are bound for hell. He dips his pen in poison and spits out memorably venomous lines in Narrow Way and Pay In Blood. However, there is often an element of wry humour.

The legend remains a part-time genius. The lyrics of John Lennon tribute Roll On John, though heart-felt, are rather clumsy and obvious.

But Dylan can be forgiven when he produces a track like Early Roman Kings or the compelling old west love triangle ballad Tin Angel.

That's Alright Elvis in tribute to legend

The Elvis Years, Grand Theatre
 SCREAMS of delight from the ladies welcomed Mario Kombou onto the stage in Wolverhampton looking every inch like the King himself.

After seeing many Elvis impersonators over the years - some good some bad - I was a little apprehensive. But after his opening song, That's Alright Mama, my wife who is a keen Elvis fan agreed with me that this was going to be a brilliant show.

With his looks and uncanny perfect vocals, Kombou brought the King alive. Together with his first class musicians it was non-stop hits from Heartbreak Hotel to Viva Las Vegas. Dressed in the all-in-one white jumpsuit he went into the audience to give scarves to the fans.

The Last song An American Trilogy had the audience on their feet singing along.

The Sims go supernatural

PC GAME

The Sims 3 Supernatural Expansion Pack (12)

THE world of the Sims just got even weirder with the latest add-on for the hugely popular Sims 3.

Previous versions of the game in which you create your own virtual people and neighbourhoods had the odd alien, ghost and visiting vampire. Now makers EA introduce a range of supernatural creatures including werewolves, fairies, witches, wizards and vampires.

And watch out for the wandering ghouls from Plants Vs Zombies.

Sims devotees will delight in the new stuff and abilities, offering the chance to wave a wand, fly via fairy wings or broomsticks, and cast spells.

Teeth Whitening

Your smile is important. It's one of the first things you notice when you meet someone. A whiter, brighter smile is beautiful - it can help you feel better about yourself and make a memorable impression

Whitening can get your smile looking its best. Non-professional procedures and clinically unproven teeth whitening tips can often lead to unsatisfactory results, you should look for a whitening procedure that is:

- Fast and convenient
- Long lasting
- Low sensitivity
- Proven to be safe and effective
- Performed by a Dental Professional

Facial Cosmetic Clinic

Facial Fillers & Wrinkle Relaxing treatments

Since the late 1980's, Facial Fillers and Wrinkle Relaxing Injections have been part of a major revolution in non-surgical cosmetic treatments becoming one of the most popular treatments available in the fight against the signs of ageing today. The results of treatment are a natural, relaxed and more youthful appearance which will last for several months.

Wrinkle relaxing treatments are commonly used to treat areas in the upper part of the face such as frown lines between the eyes, forehead lines and lines around the eyes (Crow's feet).

Lichfield Family Dental can now offer you the opportunity to have Facial Fillers from £295 and Wrinkle Relaxing treatment from £250 Please call us to find out more information.

Greatest ELO hits replayed

TOP tribute to Jeff Lynne and co the ELO Experience bring their UK tour to Cannock's Prince of Wales Centre on November 3.

The world's foremost Electric Light Orchestra tribute, they will take the stage at the Church Street Centre from 7.30pm with their two-hour plus Greatest Hits show.

The seven-piece band, fronted by Andy Louis, will take fans on a trip down memory lane with songs such as 'Greats as Livin' Thing, Wild West Hero, Don't Bring Me Down, Hold on Tight, Telephone Line, Mr Blue Sky and many more.

The ELO Experience have been recreating the fabulous sounds of Jeff Lynne and the band for four years in the theatres across the UK, and their popularity continues to grow.

Tickets are £16, available from the Prince of Wales Centre on 01543 578762.

Tributes to Simple Minds and Police

QUEEN Alive and tributes to Simple Minds and The Police take the stage at the Tackeroo this weekend.

Queen Alive perform tomorrow night (Friday), from 9pm in Bracken Close, Brindley Heath. Saturday sees Simple Minds and The Police tributes perform. Admission to both is £5.

Swan Lake is a milestone for 100 young ballerinas

MORE than 100 young ballerinas from the West Midlands will be involved in a spectacular production of Swan Lake, being performed by the English Youth Ballet at Wolverhampton Grand Theatre tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday.

Little Voice to be heard at the Grand AWARD-winning comedy-drama with music, The Rise and Fall of Little Voice, brings a star-studded cast to Wolverhampton Grand.

Jim Cartwright's story of a talent scout who thinks he's found a goldmine in a shy girl with an incredible talent to sing like the great female stars of yesteryear is at the Grand from Monday to Saturday (September 24 to 29).

Introducing gifted impressionist Jess Robinson from Dead Ringers as Little Voice, also stars Coronation Street's Beverley Callard as her formidable mother, Joe McGann as desperate agent Ray Say and Ray Quinn as her admirer Billy.

The three performances of this Russian classic, danced to the soaring music of Tchaikovsky, will be performed on Friday and Saturday evenings, and at a Saturday matinee. Local dancers who auditioned at the Grand will join eight principal dancers on stage.

It is not the only Swan Lake this autumn, with Birmingham Royal Ballet's return home from touring to present this best known of all ballets, plus a triple bill of shorter works.

Powerful

The company will test out Birmingham Hippodrome's new stage from September 26 to 29 with Opposites Attract, including David Birtley's joyous jazz dance Take That, Jessica Lang's inventive Lyric Pieces and Hans van Manen's powerful Grosse Fuge. Their Swan Lake is from October 2 to 6, the roles of Odette/Odile being shared by Nao Sakuma, Elisha Willis and Natasha Oughtred.

Dancers preparing for the Waltz of the Swans in English Youth Ballet's Swan Lake

X Factor rocker at Robin 2

WOLVERHAMPTON X Factor contestant Joe Whelan, who wowed the celebrity judges with his version of Led Zeppelin's Whole Lotta Love, is bringing his band to Bilston for his first home turf concert since causing a TV sensation.

A singer and guitarist, the tool salesman from Ashmore Park used to be a cage fighter and fronted local hard rock band Dementia.

The Joseph Whelan Band will be in concert at the Robin 2 on Wednesday, October 3. Tickets are £10 in advance or £12 on the door.

Other plum gigs at the Mount Pleasant venue include Andy Fairweather Low (Sep 28) and top young blueswoman Joanne Shaw Taylor and her band (Oct 9).

REVIEW

A 'genius' decision – and a hit

Cannock Chase Drama Society 'Calendar Girls', Prince of Wales, Cannock CANNOCK Chase Drama Society outstripped other amateur groups in the race to perform Calendar Girls.

They were the first group to be granted a licence to perform this world-wide hit although the first amateur performance was given by Grassington Players, where the original Calendar Girls WI is based.

Chase Drama's decision was a stroke of genius and must rank as the society's greatest box-office hit.

It is not easy to stage the many different female characters that this play demands but director Julie Hunter pulled it off.

The set, lighting and sound were absolutely right and the famous calendar scene was perfectly crafted and extremely funny.

Bryan Till.

Dance school to hand out awards

Red or Black?

ITV1, 7.25pm

For newcomers, the format for this series involves contestants in each round choosing red or black, with those who choose the wrong colour being sent home. All video games need beta tests to iron out any bugs, and the same is true for TV game shows – so series two may have redressed any problems from 2011. The question is: can rugby union stars Sam Warburton and Manu Tuilagi help turn the show around? Or do the masses really miss the sight of two teams of dogs competing in a race? Here's a chance to find out as Ant and Dec present the latest edition.

Dragons' Den

BBC2, 9pm
Children's ride-on suitcases, Trunkis have become a success since their invention by Rob Law a few years ago. However, Law's novel idea didn't exactly get off to great start when it was rejected by the Dragons in 2006 after Theo Paphitis broke one of the straps. However, for every Trunki, the Dragons can boast several successes, including Levi Roots' Reggae Reggae sauce, Rapstrap and ITeddy. This is perhaps why two Mancunian sisters who, like Law, were rejected when they appeared back in 2005 are looking for a second chance to impress.

Fearless, ITV1, 10.35pm

A respected fighter in China at the turn of the 20th century returns from self-imposed exile with the intention of passing on his knowledge. Wary of his status as a national hero, foreign powers based in China challenge him to enter a tournament so their own champions can destroy him. Martial arts adventure, based on a true story, starring Jet Li and Shido Nakamura. In Mandarin, Japanese and English. (2006)

TUESDAY

The Break-Up, ITV1, 10.35pm

A thirtysomething couple's seemingly perfect relationship deteriorates into a series of petty squabbles. But once they decide to call it a day, another problem presents itself – neither is willing to give up their home, forcing the pair to carry on living together, while each hopes the other will be driven away first. Comedy drama, starring Jennifer Aniston, Vince Vaughn, Jon Favreau and Joey Lauren Adams. (2006)

WEDNESDAY

Lakeview Terrace, Channel 5, 11pm

A bigoted police officer appoints himself guardian of his suburban neighbourhood. When a mixed-race couple move into the house next door, his disapproval of their relationship leads him to begin a campaign of intimidation against them that spirals into violence. Neil LaBute's thriller, starring Samuel L. Jackson, Patrick Wilson, Kerry Washington and Ron Glass. (2008)

Quantum of Solace, Friday, ITV1, 10.35pm

THURSDAY

Separated by Murder, Channel 5, 3.05pm

Identical twin sisters who have always had a close relationship are jailed separately after being convicted of conspiring to murder one of their husbands, forcing them to cope without each other for the first time. Fact-based drama, starring Sharon Gless in a dual role alongside Steve Railsback, Ed Bruce and Mark W. Johnson. (1994)

FRIDAY

Quantum of Solace, ITV1, 10.35pm

James Bond sets out on a personal mission of vengeance as he pursues the secretive criminal organisation Quantum. His search leads him to the head of an ecological corporation, who is plotting to orchestrate a coup in a Latin American country to get his hands on a precious natural resource. Spy thriller sequel, starring Daniel Craig, Olga Kurylenko, Judi Dench, Gemma Arterton and Mathieu Amalric. (2008)

Pick of the Week

Nigella returns to dish up another tasty treat

She's been off our screens for a while now, but it's probably fair to say that Nigella Lawson has inspired a whole new generation of eager cooks – whether they would be mostly of the male variety because of her, shall we say, descriptive methods of demonstration is purely speculation – but however she's done it, the Beeb's number one food lady is a wealth of knowledge when it comes to all things tasty.

Through her endless well-thought-out telly offerings and a number of recipe books over the years, Nigella has given us reason to stop covering behind our cheesecake when meal-time conversation inevitably turns to who will be the next poor soul to host festivities.

This time around, in Nigellissima (Monday, BBC2, 8.30pm), the cook is presenting a guide to Italian cuisine, keen to demonstrate how traditional and exciting meals needn't be a chore to knock up, and can actually use ingredients that are widely available in most supermarkets. It seems like we're fast running out of excuses for slobbing out on the sofa and ordering takeaways.

The kitchen set in which she will be working her magic has been purposely built and modelled entirely on her own kitchen at home, so she's bound to be a dab-hand, right? Not that that was ever in doubt.

She recently explained, on her website blog, the reasons for building a replica kitchen for the programme, rather than simply using her own: "I love my new kitchen and would have loved to film in it. But with one child doing GCSEs, another AS exams and yet another A-levels, it would not have been a good idea – or even possible. So we built a copy of my kitchen on set and it feels just like home."

That's just as well because Nigella prides herself on her home-cooking being suitable for bringing together even the busiest of families.

But what has inspired her to choose Italian food to base this latest series around? This isn't Nigella's first taste of the country, as she explains: "When I went to live in Italy when young, I said I'd do anything but clean lavatories; as a chambermaid in Florence, that is what I ended up doing! But I also learned about real Italian food, and by the time I'd left I had found my spiritual and gastronomic home."

"I wanted to make a series of my sort of Italian food, inspired by the ethos and the ingredients, but fused with the way we live our lives, here, in the UK. I care about ease and accessibility, but I care most about passion and taste – and it is these crucial Italian factors I want to bring to the table and the television!"

And first up on the menu is Sicilian pasta with tomatoes, garlic and almonds, a family feast of tagliata and Tuscan fries, and a fiery egg dish designed for late-night parties... so good we can almost taste it.

Welcome back Nigella!

Nigella Lawson presents Nigellissima, Monday, BBC2, 8.30pm

Best of the Rest

Leaving, Channel 4, 9pm

Come September, the nights might be showing signs of drawing in all too early, and the kids might be whining about starting school again, but in broadcasting terms, for ITV it means it's the start of a brand new season of fantastic dramas. Of course this latest offering from the pen of Tony Marchant has been no exception. His dramas aren't known for being light-hearted, cheery affairs; the more taboo the better, and he outdid himself with this three-parter. Alas, like all good things, it must come to an end. In this final instalment, Maxine visits Aaron to ask him to leave her family alone, while Julie realises the liaison must end.

TUESDAY

The Paradise, BBC1, 9pm

ITV1 will soon be bringing us Mr Selfridge, but the BBC has just piped them to the post in the department store-related-drama stakes with this new series. Based on the novel by Emile Zola, but transported to the north of 19th-century England, it tells the tale of Denise Lovett (Joanna Vanderham), an ambitious country girl who takes a job in Britain's first department store. She soon finds herself falling in love with both the opulent surroundings and the dashing, reckless owner John Moray (Ewan Elliott). With Sarah Lancashire and Patrick Malahide also among the cast, The Paradise looks like a very classy establishment.

The Boy Who Can't Forget

Channel 4, 9pm

Leaving your teenage years behind can be daunting enough – heading into your twenties brings with it a certain sense of responsibility after all. Imagine on top of all that possessing the as-yet inexplicable talent of being able to recall years-old memories in such a detailed fashion that you're considered a phenomenon. Twenty-year-old Aurelien knows it only too well, and is the first Briton to go public with the unbelievable trait. Aurelien is put to the test by eight-time world memory champion Dominic O'Brien, and examined by memory expert Professor Giuliana Mazzoni. This ability is known as superior autobiographical memory – but just how can seemingly ordinary people have such power that we didn't believe it possible humans could possess?

WEDNESDAY

Who Do You Think You Are? BBC1, 9pm

Over the past 50 plus years, Coronation Street has been more than just an ITV serial. Like fish and chips and Blackpool rock, it's been part of British life, and at the heart of it, one man: Ken Barlow. Taking a break from Weatherfield, William Roache weaves into his family's history for episode seven of the hit genealogy show. It proves to be an emotional journey for the veteran actor as he discovers revelations about his grandfather, Albert; why his mum Hester left Blackpool when she was three months old, and how his family was held together by his grandmother, Zillah Waddicor. Plus, he also discovers his great-grandad's 'shocking' business which helped Victorian clients on Blackpool's seafloor.

Drugs Live: The Ecstasy Trial

Channel 4, 10pm

One imagines that if any TV programme were to carry the caveat 'don't try this at home', it's this one. Presented by Dr Christian Jessen and Jon Snow, this revealing documentary really does do exactly what it says on the tin – the hosts invite a range of volunteers into a controlled environment where they will take MDMA (the purest form of Ecstasy). They will be monitored, of course – scientists David Nutt and Val Curran are on-hand to explore the effects, side-effects and long-term consequences for users.

Homefront, ITV1, 9pm

The X Factor may get the headlines, but

ITV1's drama output has been quietly excelling over the past month or so. The channel has brought us Mrs Biggs, A Mother's Son, Leaving and The Bletchley Circle, and this promising new series looks set to keep up the standard. With an impressive cast, it focuses on a group of military wives who are struggling to keep the home fires burning while their husbands are serving overseas. The first episode reminds us of what's at stake as Tasha (Anthonia Thomas) discovers her husband Matt has been killed in action. Claire (Claire Skinner) faces her first big test as she discovers that being the fiancée of Major Pete Bartham (Greg Wise) brings with it certain responsibilities.

FRIDAY

Piers Morgan's Life Stories: Denise Welch, ITV1, 9pm

Actress Denise Welch first shot to fame in Soldier Soldier and Coronation Street, but if the press reports can be believed, at times she's seemed like a one-woman soap opera. Not only have viewers got used to seeing her chatting frankly on shows such as Loose Women and Celebrity Big Brother – which she won earlier this year – but various aspects of her personal life have been splashed across the papers as well. So, we should probably expect a very candid edition of Life Stories as she talks to Piers about her decision to announce the end of her 24-year marriage to fellow actor Tim Healy live on TV, as well as her recent engagement to toyboy Lincoln Towne.

Three-bedroomed semi-detached

This semi-detached is on the market for offers based on £110,000

AN extended three bedroom semi-detached house in Leamington Close, Cannock, is for sale based on offers around £110,000 – and with no upward chain.

The accommodation briefly comprises of lounge, dining area, kitchen, three bedrooms and a bathroom, with the property also benefiting from gas central heating, double glazing, front and rear gardens, garage and driveway.

On the ground floor the lounge, 17ft 2in by 12ft 11in, has an arch to the dining area while the kitchen – 10ft 4in by 9ft 1in – has a range of base and wall units with roll top work surfaces, sink and drainer, plumbing for washing machine, space for fridge/freezer and cooker and extractor.

On the first floor are three bedrooms and a bathroom with suite comprising low-level WC, pedestal wash and basin and bath.

There is a single integral garage while outside to the front is a driveway with flower and display borders, while the rear garden has a lawn, flower and shrub display borders, paved patio and shed.

Regulations take the red tape out of planning rules

Homeowners will be allowed to build single-storey extensions up to eight metres

LAST week the government announced it is to relax certain planning rules and restrictions in a bid to inject some life into the housing market.

Homeowners will be allowed to build single-storey extensions that stretch up to eight metres beyond their property's rear wall with more ease as the government cut the official planning procedures says David Henderson from Strutt & Parker's Shrewsbury office.

The government hopes that by substantially reducing the amount of paperwork required to build the most common extensions such as a conservatory, loft extension or garage conversion they can revive the property industry and help kick-start growth across the rest of the economy.

Boost

Strutt & Parker's head of Building Consultancy, Jane Henshaw, explains: "Local contractors who specialise in smaller jobs will receive a huge boost from this news."

"I'm sure it will have a positive effect on local businesses as home owners can get a builder in quickly, start talking, and begin the work much sooner without the delay of form-filling and red-tape. However some home owners are concerned about an increase in unsightly blots on the landscape as households won't need the permission to build when the current procedures are axed." The new rules do not apply universally, those who are in conservation areas, listed buildings or national parks will still have to go through the same processes as before.

The change is one of a series of "growth announcements" expected from the government and will come into effect within weeks as papers get pushed through parliament to put the guarantees in place.

Wiggin advises: "There are likely to be more neighbourly disputes as building works disrupt views and noise levels increase."

"I always advise people to weigh up all options before deciding to extend – it may be more cost-effective to move to a bigger house rather than altering your current home. If you do decide to expand, it is still important to run your proposals past the planning officer at your local planning department, and the Party Wall Act concerning giving notice to neighbours still applies."

In addition to relaxing the rules on home improvements there will also be an extension of the FirstBuy scheme to encourage new homeowners, with funding for another 16,500 new homeowners, providing new buyers with a loan of up to 20 per cent of their new property's value.

Extended bungalow with country views

BACKING onto fields at the rear, which provides stunning views over countryside beyond, yet only a few miles from the town's of Stone and Stafford, this well-presented extended detached bungalow offers spacious accommodation.

The property, known as Kinvarra, is situated in Aston Lane, Aston, Stone. It is on the market with Bridgfords for offers based around £425,000.

Accommodation comprises entrance hall, open plan kitchen, diner and lounge, utility room, study, four double bedrooms, bathroom and separate shower room.

To the front there are two entrances providing in and out access, which lead onto a sweeping driveway to the detached garage and gardens.

There is a fabulous garden to the rear, with patio, lawn, vegetable patch and storage area to the side.

The property also benefits from gas central heating, double glazing and some under floor heating. Viewing is strongly recommended by the agent to avoid disappointment.

For further details call Bridgfords on 01785 242426.

HOMES

Why you don't need to move to improve

THREE quarters of people are choosing to 'improve rather than move' as the current climate shows no time in changing.

According to property expert Michael Holmes, editor of Real Homes magazine, adding space to a property is the most effective way to create value and he outlines his five top tips on how you can improve the value of your home while on a budget:

Remodel your space

Most properties have potential to be improved by adding or removing the partition walls between existing rooms to make better use of the space you already have. Remodelling can make your home seem much larger, especially if you open the space up and create open plan, multi-function rooms that make the most of natural light.

Popular ideas include reusing redundant or lesser used space such as; a large hallway and landing, unnecessary corridor space, understairs space, a former airing cupboard or coal store, the dining room, or an overly large master or second bedroom.

Conversion

One of the most cost-effective ways to add value is to convert a loft, garage or cellar. Providing the existing structure is reasonably sound and proportioned, adding space through conversion is usually more cost-effective than adding an extension and has the added bonus of not sacrificing any garden space.

Think vertically

When looking at room layout options most people only think of their space horizontally and ignore opportunities to make more of space by thinking vertically. Simple ideas like fitting high level storage can make a big difference in freeing space elsewhere. A bedroom with a tall ceiling could accommodate a desk with a raised sleeping platform above it, giving valuable floorspace.

Converting the loft can be a cost-effective way of adding value

Re-use redundant space

In a period property there are often features that are redundant or which can be replaced by more space-efficient modern alternatives. The chimney is a classic case. The hot water cylinder and hot and cold water storage tanks can take up a lot of space, but in many areas providing the mains water pressure is 3 bar or above, they can all be dispensed with and replaced by a modern space and energy-efficient combination boiler.

Space efficient design

Trick yourself into thinking that you have more space than you actually do. Light colours on the walls and ceilings will brighten rooms and make them appear larger. The easiest and cheapest illusion is to simply add a mirror. It will work by reflecting your space to effectively double its size.

Fitting the same floor finish throughout your home creates a connection between rooms and makes them flow together as one, adding the illusion of more space, especially if a lighter colour material is chosen.

Adding French doors, patio doors or folding sliding doors creates a relationship between inside and out, creating the opportunity to expand your living space outside onto a deck or patio area.

ONLY 0.5% TO SELL YOUR HOUSE

We are focused on harnessing the power of the internet to market your house to its best advantage to attract that important enquiry.

This in turn saves us money that we can pass on to you.

We also offer a FREE House Doctor Service as you never get a second chance to make a first impression so that initial kerb appeal is very important. We want our clients to feel as if they are our only client and to enjoy working with us.

We look forward to your call.

LANDLORDS let us give you, "Total Peace of Mind".

Are you fed up not getting the right tenants?
Are you fed up your property not being looked after?
Are you fed up not getting rent on time?

With 7 years experience, we will let and manage your property, giving you "Total Peace of Mind". If you are already with an agent but need a change, it couldn't be easier, call now for a chat with Lorna or James.

GARDENING

Time to say goodbye to summer's flowers

IT'S October and time to bite the bullet and remove all summer flowers from your decorative beds and borders ready to plant up spring bulbs and winter flowering bedding.

The earlier you do this job the better. In a "normal" autumn the soil should be still warm enough to encourage the establishment of new roots from both bedding and bulbs giving them a much better chance of producing a good display than if you plant them out during cold weather in November.

After removing your summer bedding from your border knock off all soil from the roots and put to one side. Now is a good time to take home-made compost from your domestic heap and incorporate this into the soil to improve the structure, the drainage and the organic body.

The most decomposed vegetable waste will be found in the lower layers as this is the area that has experienced the maximum effect of bacteria and micro-organisms that create heat and encourage the breakdown of the plant leaves, stems and vegetable peelings.

Carbon

If your compost is still wet and slimy it probably needs more time and the addition of some torn up brown cardboard to balance out the high nitrogen content of too much grass. If you mix up the whole content of the heap with this cardboard it will add air and absorb some of the wetness and introduce extra carbon to improve decomposition. Shredded paper is also another valuable addition to grass clippings as it works in a similar way.

If you have no home-made compost or it's not friable enough to dig in, it is worth buying a few bags of Levington Farmyard Manure or Levington

Organic Blend Soil Conditioner. This will be virtually free of weed seeds because of the production process and will also supply some nutrients to boost the feeding ability of your soil.

Buying your bulbs in October will also provide you with the widest choice of bulb types, colours and varieties. For an April/May tulip reminiscent of old Dutch oil paintings see if you can find the double bedding tulip called Carnival de Nice. It produces large, fragrant double white blooms with strong bright red flares.

Very fashionable of late are the fringed tulips that have heavily serrated edges to the petals. They bloom from late April to May on tall stems having extra interest in their flashy bi-colours and fascinating petal forms.

Hybrid proves a no-fuss option

I F you want to feel as green as it is possible to feel behind the wheel, there's not much that can top the sensation of humming along in virtual silence as an electric motor delivers your forward motion.

Toyota has spent more than a decade refining and improving its hybrid drive system and at the same time has spread it over an increasing range of models.

Now it is offering the still-fresh Yaris supermini in hybrid form for the first time.

It's hard to spot that dual-power Yaris from its conventionally powered cousins. Toyota hybrid geeks will notice the blue-tinted badge at the front and a discreet 'Hybrid Synergy Drive' applique at the rear, but the biggest change is arguably the most beneficial.

Due to the extra cooling demands of the hybrid system, there is a substantially larger grille at the front and the bumper has been restyled to accommodate it. It gives the Yaris Hybrid a bit more presence than the standard car and is all the better for it.

Mechanically, though, there are no great surprises in store, just a few small detail tweaks to the hybrid recipe.

The Yaris Hybrid uses essentially the same set up as the Auris Hybrid but with the four-cylinder petrol engine downsized to a more suitable 1.5-litres.

Unchanged

Sandwiched into the Yaris's underbody is the petrol engine, inverter, electric motor and battery pack – but even more impressive than that, cabin space is unchanged over the standard car.

Slotting all this tech into the diminutive Yaris inevitably means an impressive set of stats.

The headline figures of 80.7mpg combined and 79g/km are spectacularly low, on a par with the best eco-diesel superminis and significantly better than any rival petrol-powered car.

It also has a significant advantage over conventionally powered rivals in that it can operate in all-electric mode.

There's very little to distinguish the Yaris Hybrid from its siblings once you've climbed inside.

The cabin is identical apart from a slightly different instrument display to keep you updated on the actions of the powertrain. It might not be the most exciting interior but it is obviously well built, with sizeable buttons and clear displays. Start it up and drive away with the car in Eco mode and whenever possible the Yaris will accelerate smoothly and silently away solely on electric power.

That doesn't necessarily mean slowly either, as you need a strong prod of the accelerator to get it to jump into petrol power. That's a real boon in the city as you can stay electric below 31mph when full acceleration is called for – but that shouldn't be very often in a car this frugal.

When the 1.5-litre petrol engine does kick in, it does so without any huge fuss, and unless you have the right pedal pinned to the carpet, there's very little in the way of noise.

The system drives through a CVT gearbox for maximum efficiency, although the flip side to this is a steady hum from the engine when full acceleration is called for – but that shouldn't be very often in a car this frugal.

When driven with care and restraint, the Yaris Hybrid is in its element, and keeping a close eye on the system status in the instrument cluster promotes a thrifty driving style.

Do so and your reward is not only low fuel consumption but also low noise as the petrol engine falls silent when not needed. Adding to the relaxing experience is the fact that the suspension does a good job of soaking up bumps, and while it's no limousine, the Yaris Hybrid is a relaxed drive.

The flipside is that the Yaris is not as much fun as some of its keen rivals and anyone looking for an eco-supermini with a sporty flavour is looking in the wrong place.

However, the Yaris Hybrid is very good at what it is designed to do; provide a fuss-free, highly economical drive with the potential for all-electric running and do so while offering a good specification and the solid Toyota reputation.

Building cars to order after success in championship

MAZDA is building on the success of its MX-5 GT4 race car in the Avon Tyres British GT Championship by building customer MX-5 GT4 race cars to order for the 2013 season.

Earlier this month at Snetterton, the Mazda MX-5 GT4 finished on the podium again with a second place, demonstrating that this car is a real title contender.

Built by Jota Sport, the Mazda MX-5 GT4, weighing in at 1,000kg, will cost £125,000, excluding VAT, and is now available to order for the 2013 season.

The car will benefit from further development during 2012 and will be a fully homologated car for GT4 racing.

Powered by an MZR two-litre turbo unit, the MX-5 GT4 produces 320bhp and will come ready to race.

The Mazda MX-5 GT4 features a fully prepared shell with FIA spec roll cage, carbon fibre doors, front splitter, rear diffuser and rear wing as standard.

Inside, the MX-5 GT4 has a carbon fibre dash and centre console, Pi Omega D2 display and data logger and a six-speed sequential gearbox with paddle shift as standard.

The Mazda MX-5 GT4 will be eligible for numerous domestic and continental GT & GT4 championships throughout the world.

Sam Hignett, managing director of Jota Group, says: "We have spent the season getting the car to the front of the season."

"We started from the base of last year's GT car and set ourselves the aim of finishing the 2012 season with a car that would be competitive in GT4."

"At this stage in the season we are very pleased with the progress and believe any team buying the MX-5 GT4 will have a potential winner ready to race."

"The car is an easy car to race and would even suit track day enthusiasts. We are still developing the car, but we are now at a point that we can offer this car to customers safe in the knowledge that it is going to be a front runner in any GT4 field."

Vanquish super GT on a tour of country

The Aston Martin Vanquish is on a nationwide tour of the luxury brand's 21 dealerships

THE new Aston Martin Vanquish super GT is hitting the road in the UK this week as it embarks on an ambitious whistle-stop tour of the luxury brand's 21 dealerships nationwide.

The exceptional sports car, an impressive new halo for the Aston Martin range, left the brand's global HQ at Gaydon in Warwickshire bound for the recently redeveloped Aston Martin Works dealership in nearby Newport Pagnell, Buckinghamshire, and its first stop.

Aston fans keen to catch a glimpse of the new £190,000 super GT actually on the road will have to wait a little longer, though, as the display car touring dealerships is travelling from city to city in a specially-created truck complete with exclusive Aston Martin Vanquish branding.

The brief tour, which includes exclusive invitation-only customer preview events at Aston Martin dealerships around the country where guests have the chance to see the Vanquish close up, discuss its many technical and styling highlights and place an order for the new car, comes just ahead of the car's global media launch which takes place within weeks.

Visiting dealerships as far afield as Edinburgh to the north and Jersey in the south, the whirlwind tour takes place over just 26 days and will see the new super GT clock up thousands of miles on UK roads – in its bespoke chauffeur truck, of course.

Architecture

Those lucky enough to see the Vanquish during its tour will preview a new Aston Martin featuring the next generation of the renowned VH architecture as well as the new AM11 6.0-litre V12 engine that is considerably more potent than before.

With 573PS available at 6,750rpm, 620Nm of torque at 5,500rpm, a 0-62mph time of 4.1 seconds and a top speed of 183mph the Vanquish is, clearly, a fully paid-up member of the supercar club.

Yet as well as more power and performance, the Vanquish is also a practical grand tourer. Improvements such as a newly-designed and significantly more spacious cabin and a boot that, at 368 litres, is more than 60 per cent larger than that of the DBS, see to that.

Meanwhile the new car's stunning design represents the latest take on Aston Martin's iconic visual language.

Priced from £189,995 RRP first deliveries of the Vanquish will begin in the UK late in 2012.

The Volkswagen Golf VII will offer a choice of four driving modes – Eco, Sport, Normal and Individual

New generation Golf on the way with big changes

VOLKSWAGEN has revealed details of its all-new seventh-generation Golf, including a new chassis, new engines, new dimensions and a completely revised interior space.

A new Golf is a significant event not just for Volkswagen but for the industry in general. Consumers and other brands alike regard the Golf as the benchmark for C-segment hatchbacks.

It's fair to say that while it looks very little different to the current Golf VI, the Golf VII is changed in almost every other way.

It's 56mm longer, 13mm wider, 28mm lower and up to 100kg lighter, along with a 59mm longer wheelbase for more interior space.

The exterior changes bring a new super-low drag co-efficient of 0.27 Cd, despite the traditionally aerodynamically harmful hatchback body.

Inside, taller drivers will benefit from front seats that have been moved further back, and yet rear legroom has been increased. Shoulder room has been boosted by around 30mm for both front and rear occupants, endowing the next Golf with a much greater sense of spaciousness.

Boot space rises 30ltr to 380 with the seats upright, while a special optional extra feature will allow the front passenger seat to fold flat, offering a potential 2.4m of interior load space.

Space between the front seats is increased through the use of an electronic parking brake. As a cost option the compartment under the centre armrest can include a universal phone holder with an inductive aerial, which not only increases the signal strength of a phone placed in it, but also reduces the drain on the phone's battery.

Its intelligent range of engines will include a 138bhp 1.4 petrol with cylinder deactivation technology, where two of the four cylinders shut down combustion at low engine loads to save fuel and achieve a potential 58.9mpg with 112g/km of CO₂.

A 1.6-litre 104bhp diesel achieves 99g/km of CO₂ with up to 74.3mpg, and a 2.0-litre 148bhp option records a remarkable 106g/km and 68.9mpg.

A first for the Golf is a choice of four driving modes. Eco, Sport, Normal and Individual partly echo the choice available on cars from VW's subsidiary Audi.

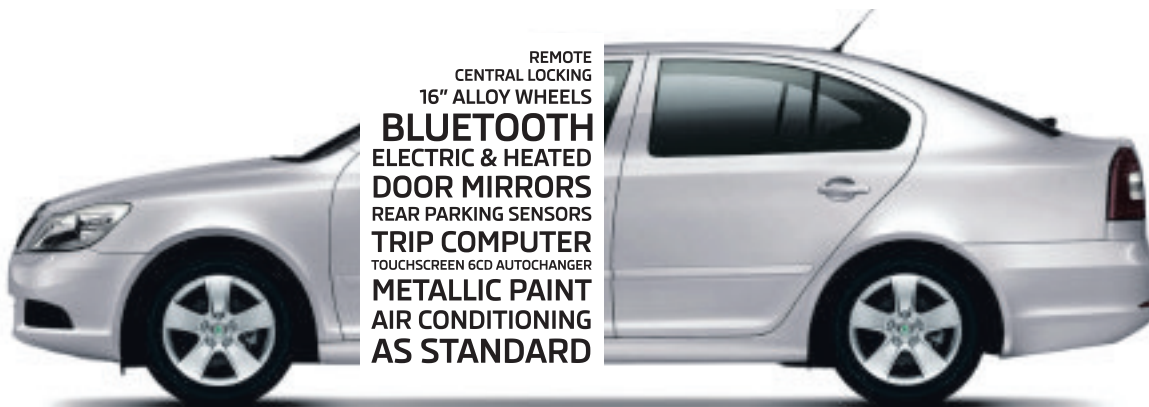

Further details will be announced at the Paris Motor Show later this month.

Yaris Hybrid now with that extra bit of presence

By Matt Joy

IF YOU want to feel as green as it is possible to feel behind the wheel, there's not much that can top the sensation of humming along in virtual silence as an electric motor delivers your forward motion.

Toyota has spent more than a decade refining and improving its hybrid drive system and at the same time has spread it over an increasing range of models.

Now it is offering the still-fresh Yaris supermini in hybrid form for the first time.

It's hard to spot that dual-power Yaris from its conventionally powered cousins.

Toyota hybrid geeks will notice the blue-tinted badge at the front and a discreet 'Hybrid Synergy Drive' applique at the rear, but the biggest change is arguably the most beneficial.

Due to the extra cooling demands of the hybrid system, there is a substantially larger grille at the front and the bumper has been restyled to accommodate it. It gives the Yaris Hybrid a bit more presence than the standard car and is all the better for it.

Mechanically, though, there are no great surprises in store, just a few small detail tweaks to the hybrid recipe.

The Yaris Hybrid uses essentially the same set up as the Auris Hybrid but with the four-cylinder petrol engine downsized to a more suitable 1.5-litre.

Sandwiched into the Yaris's underbody is the petrol engine, inverter, electric motor and battery pack - but even more impressive than that, cabin space is unchanged over the standard car.

Slotting all this tech into the diminutive Yaris inevitably means an impressive set of stats.

The headline figures of 80.7mpg combined and 79g/km are spectacularly low, on a par with the best eco-diesel superminis and significantly better than any rival petrol-powered car.

It also has a significant advantage over conventionally powered rivals in that it can operate in all-electric mode.

There's very little to distinguish the Yaris Hybrid from its siblings once you've climbed inside.

The cabin is identical apart from a slightly different instrument display to keep you updated on the actions of the powertrain. It might not be the most exciting interior but it is obviously well built, with sizeable buttons and clear displays.

Smoothly

Start it up and drive away with the car in Eco mode and whenever possible the Yaris will accelerate smoothly and silently away solely on electric power.

That doesn't necessarily mean slowly either, as you need a strong prod of the accelerator to get it to jump into petrol power. That's a real boon in the city as you can stay electric below 31mph but still keep in the swim of traffic.

When the 1.5-litre petrol engine does kick in, it does so without any huge fuss, and unless you have the right pedal pinned to the carpet, there's very little in the way of noise.

The system drives through a CVT gearbox for maximum efficiency, although the flip side to this is a steady hum from the engine when full acceleration is called for - but that shouldn't be very often in a car this frugal.

When driven with care and restraint, the Yaris Hybrid is in its element, and keeping a close eye on the system status in the instrument cluster promotes a thrifty driving style.

Do so and your reward is not only low fuel consumption but also low noise as the petrol engine falls silent when not needed, even if the speedometer happens to read over 31mph.

Adding to the relaxing experience is the fact that the suspension does a good job of soaking up bumps, and while it's no limousine, the Yaris Hybrid delivers a relaxed drive.

The flipside is that the Yaris is not as much fun as some of its keen rivals and anyone looking for an eco-supermini with a sporty flavour is looking in the wrong place.

However, the Yaris Hybrid is very good at what it is designed to do; provide a fuss-free, highly economical drive with the potential for all-electric running and do so while offering a good specification and the solid Toyota reputation.

Against limited hybrid competition in this sector, the Yaris Hybrid is far and away the best offering.

Whether it matches up against diesel-powered opposition is a matter for the spreadsheet and the style council. Either way, there is no doubting that the Yaris Hybrid is an impressive all-round package.

A smooth operator - the Toyota Yaris supermini hybrid which is hard to tell apart from its more conventionally-powered cousins

Emissions cut on crossover

THE Peugeot 3008 HYbrid4, the first full hybrid diesel-electric crossover in the world, is now available with even lower CO2 emissions, reduced to just 91g/km.

Peugeot, the innovator of the HYbrid4 technology, stays one step ahead by improving the environmental performance of its innovative drive train (an HDi 163 diesel powering the front wheels and a 37bhp electric motor the rear wheels so combining 200bhp, four-wheel drive, with Auto, Sport and ZEV modes).

With a wealth of experience obtained in the development of three full hybrid diesel models in the Peugeot range (3008 HYbrid4, 508 RXH and 508 Saloon HYbrid4), the engineers, in their unceasing work to develop this technology, have identified aspects that introduce further optimisation.

Savings

New management software for the engines, including a number of improvements, has been developed. These changes, which optimise the phases of energy recovery and the management of the batteries, allowed new savings to be made in CO2 emissions and fuel consumption. These benefits are most marked in an urban driving environment.

The 3008 HYbrid4 is now type-approved on the combined cycle at 91g/km and the potential for 80.7mpg for the version fitted with the very low rolling resistance Energy Saving 16" tyres. The models fitted with other tyre sizes (16in M+S ('Mud & Snow'), 17in or 18in) also see their CO2 emissions reduced to 99g/km.

For company car users and operators, the three HYbrid4 models offer very attractive advantages, benefiting from the best possible environmental and fiscal position. Quite apart from the on-demand driving modes (ZEV, 4WD, Auto and Sport), plus good fuel economy and low emissions, HYbrid4 vehicles also benefit from low BIK (Benefit In Kind) taxation (10 per cent on 3008 HYbrid4 and 508 Saloon HYbrid4, 12 per cent on 508 RXH) and for companies the vehicles attract 100 per cent Capital Write Down Allowance in the first year.

High on style and performance – the new Volvo V40 R-Design

Prices for the V40 R-Design will be announced early next month

Dynamic styling with power and refinement

THE new Volvo V40 R-Design is a perfect match for those who want a head-turner that radiates a truly stylish and dynamic look.

"The V40 R-Design is designed around the performance-minded individual with a passion for those things that add extra spice to life. The meticulous attention to detail covers the expressive design as well as the agile, precise performance," says Lex Kerssemakers, senior vice-president product strategy and vehicle line management at Volvo Car Corporation.

The attention-grabbing exterior has been specially developed for buyers who want to put their very own stamp on their car.

The unique R-Design front features a silk-metal framed high-gloss grille with re-profiled front bumper and day running lights. The sporty stance is further enhanced with an ironstone rear diffuser, silk-metal finished details and twin exhaust tailpipes.

The five-spoke diamond-cut wheels (standard with 17in or can be upgraded to 18in) complete the stylish, dynamic look. The interior also gains from unique features such as the embossed R-Design leather/T-Tec upholstery, TFT instrument display, sports steering wheel, sports pedals and unique aluminium inlays.

Deliveries

Those wishing to further enhance their vehicle can upgrade to the R-Design Lux which adds additional features, such as embossed full leather-faced upholstery, active bending xenon headlights with headlight cleaning system, rain sensor, cruise control, keyless start and rear theatre lighting.

Prices will be announced in early October with dealers being able to take orders immediately.

Customer deliveries are expected to start during January 2013.

The interactive dashboard in the all-new V40 has already had a lot of positive attention, both from media and customers. The possibility to switch between three designs with different configurations and functionality is mirrored in the V40 R-Design – Elegance, Eco and Performance. But here all of the modes come in the same radiant blue colour, unique to the R-Design.

The seats feature a blend of black nubuck textile and perforated leather, crowned by an embroidered R-Design logo with a blue "R". Full leather seats are available as an option.

The comfortable, in-command driver environment also includes a specially designed steering wheel, gear-knob, handbrake and sport pedals. The unique R-Design aura is enhanced by a combination of new aluminium inlays with a perforated look, black leather, matching stitching and black headlining.

Responsive

R-Design can be combined with all engines available for the all-new Volvo V40, from the D2 diesel with 115 horsepower and CO2 emissions at 94 g/km, to the high-performance T5 petrol turbo with 254 horsepower.

The optional Sport chassis is lowered 10mm compared with the Dynamic chassis. Springs and shock absorbers have a firmer setting, resulting in a responsive driving pleasure with full control.

The front MacPherson struts have 25mm piston rods. The stiffness enables the structure to absorb lateral loads better.

At the rear the V40 has mono-tube dampers, featuring compression and return damping via the same valve. This gives shorter, faster fluid flow, which in turn means that the damper responds more quickly.

Antiroll bars with increased diameter also contribute to the sporty drive.

The standard Dynamic chassis' rigid body and low centre of gravity also promote an alert, quick-responding character that focuses on the driving experience, yet without compromising ride comfort.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:

1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with its Mother.

2. Do not attempt to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.

3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.

Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

North Street, Bridgtown Conservation Area Appraisal
North Street, Bridgtown Conservation Area Management Plan
Conservation Areas Management Plan

Draft Conservation Area documents have been prepared for Cannock Town Centre and North Street, Bridgtown, together with a generic District-wide Conservation Areas Management Plan. The documents have been prepared by Cannock Chase Council and are based on the policies contained in the saved Cannock Chase Local Plan 1997. The documents were approved for consultation purposes by the Cabinet of Cannock Chase Council on 19th April 2012.

The documents can be viewed on the Council's website www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk/planning/planningpolicy or can be inspected at the Civic Centre, Beecroft Road, Cannock WS11 1BG and Cannock Library, Manor Avenue, Cannock WS11 1AA. Comments are invited during the six week consultation period up to 26th October 2012 either by email to planningpolicy@cannockchasedc.gov.uk or by post to Planning Policy, Cannock Chase Council, Civic Centre, PO Box 28, Beecroft Road, Cannock WS11 1BG. All comments will be reported to a future Cabinet meeting for consideration in updating the documents prior to adoption by the Council.

The purpose of the documents once adopted will be to raise awareness of opportunities for enhancement and to guide future development of the Conservation Areas.

SPORT

Ton from Wilkes is key for Cannock

Brewood 168, Cannock 172-6.
Cannock won by four wickets
AN AARON WILKES century helped Cannock thirds to a home victory over Brewood in their final game of the 2012 season and fourth place in Staffordshire Clubs Division Three.

Brewood won the toss, chose to bat and scored steadily from the start on what was a good surface.

But although five of their top six got into double figures, none of them went on to make a big score with opener Glen Cooke (22) the only one to pass 20.

This was mainly thanks to an excellent spell by Steve Varker who returned figures of 4-37 from his 15 overs.

At 105-7, Cannock were firmly in charge but a half-century stand between Alistair Carey (36 not out) and Nic Patel (25) took Brewood past the 150 mark and they finished on 169.

Cannock fell to 12-2
before Wilkes took control.
He looked in little trouble while compiling an unbeaten 107 that included 78 in boundaries. Cannock got home with four wickets and 10 overs to spare.

Points are shared in fightback

Whitley Bay 1
Cannock Ladies 1
A FIGHTBACK in the second half saw Cannock
Ladies hockey firsts draw their first league fixture in the Investec Conference
North League on Saturday.

They travelled to Whitley Bay for a game which saw both sides making errors.
Whitley took an early lead following a well-stuck short corner. In the second half Cannock picked up their game and equalised through Ashley Moncarda.

Cannock host local rivals
Beeston on Saturday.

Cannock 2 Rugby 1
The thirds finished their pre-season activities with a narrow win over Rugby at Chase Park. An own goal from the visitors' goalkeeper and an Emily Cooper strike proved enough for Cannock as they battled hard for every ball all over the pitch and showed great promise for the season ahead.

This week their Stafford Ladies Division One Campaign begins away at Leek.

Shenstone Ladies, unbeaten so far this season after their 3-2 win over North Staffs YMCA, face the camera

Ladies survive tough test to keep unbeaten record

North Staffs YMCA 2 Shenstone Ladies 3
SHENSTONE came out on top in what was their toughest test of the season so far. Sophie Wilding opened the scoring after 15 minutes of pressure when she lobbed the keeper into the top left-hand corner.

They went on to dominate the rest of the first period, but could not add to their score. North Staffs came out fighting in the second half, producing a much more even game with opportunities at both ends.

But after 65 minutes, Jodie Kinsey picked up a loose ball to power home Shenstone's second. North Staffs hit back five minutes later, but shortly after that Lissy Bailes smashed in the third from the edge of the six-yard box following a Loreen Evans corner.

North Staffs piled on the pressure and with two minutes to go got a second to set up a tense last few minutes. But Shenstone held on to remain unbeaten so far this season.

Weston's ton leads side to victory

Cannock & Rugeley 234-9,
Springvale 150. Cannock &
Rugeley won by 84 runs

CANNOCK and Rugeley firsts concluded a mixed season with a comfortable win over Springvale on Saturday.

Winning the toss and batting, C&R made a poor start with the visitors reducing them to 26-4.

Adam Lawley and Martin Weston then put together an excellent partnership of 120 before Lawley was out for a typically hard-hitting 62.

Weston then proceeded to manipulate the strike to post a fine century finishing on 101. A late flourish from Shaun Aston took C&R's total to 234-9.

Adam Lawleys half century took his season's aggregate runs up to 918 making him the leading scorer in all divisions.

C&R made early inroads into the visitors batting, taking three early wickets.

The end came quickly with the final three wickets falling with the total on 150, in the 40th over. Greg Lawley 4-27, Weston 3-19 and Dan Aston 2-28 were the wicket takers.

Cannock & Rugeley 291,
Springvale 49. Cannock &
Rugeley won by 242 runs

The seconds also finished on a high note recording 291 all out, with Paul Beech 59, Rob Meek 51, Andy Boot 39 and Alan Galliar 30, the main contributors. Spring-vale were bowled out for 49 with Simon Cooper capping a fine season with 5-27 and Jock Cnaan also bowling superbly to take 2-16.

Difficult debut for the new-boys in home loss

Cannock 2 Beeston 8

CANNOCK endured a frustrating start to their season when they welcomed last year's EH Cup winners Beeston to Chase Park.

With a number of new signings making their debuts for the Knock, Cannock looked to enforce themselves on their opposition in the early stages. However this plan didn't materialise as Beeston took an early 2-0 lead. Cannock worked their way back into the game and created chances before Nick Bandurak pulled one back after good work from Matt Plunkett to create the opportunity.

They continued to push and were unlucky to hit the post before a lapse saw Beeston score two in as many minutes to go into the break 4-1 ahead.

Cannock came out for the second half with a determination to turn things around but despite this, a repeat of the first half transpired.

Frustrating mistakes led to Beeston adding two more to their tally before Dave Beckett pulled one back off a short corner for the hosts.

However, further mistakes resulted in two breakaway goals for the visitors as Cannock looked to try to salvage something from the game.

Cannock made a number of chances throughout in what was a surprisingly even game given the score line. The difference proved to be in the final third where Beeston proved far more clinical on the day.

Cannock 8 Kings Heath 2
After victory against Leek thirds last week Cannock fourths were buoyant going

Cannock hockey

into this game and soon found the back of the net with a fine strike from Callum Stacey.

Tom Hyde opened his account for Cannock's second. This was soon followed, after a jinking dribble into the D, with his second.

The fourth goal was credited to the opposition goalkeeper who fell foul of the new 'own goal' rules after Loz Perry's drive towards goal from the half-way line hit the King's keeper standing leg and into the goal.

In the second half Hyde completed his hat-trick.

After allowing Kings back in to score, Cannock stepped up the action and were rewarded with two goals from Dan Bosi.

Another loss of concentration allowed Kings to convert a rare shot on goal but Cannock rallied and Stacey hit his second goal.

Other results: Cannock seconds 0
Beeston 2, Cannock thirds 3 Kings
Heath 3, Kings Heath Pickwick 1
Cannock fifths 2, Cannock sixths 5
Kings Heath 4, Cannock Futures 7
Sutton Coldfield 1, Cannock Cubs 2

Successful teenagers on the crest of a wave

Sam Blocksidge and Connie Hicklin rule the waves on their way to success in the GP14 championship in Looe

MIDLAND sailors are celebrating success at the GP14 World championships in Cornwall.

More than 20 boats from South
Staffordshire Sailing Club, based at Gailey Reservoir, near Cannock, made the journey down the M5 to be part of the 130-strong field in Looe.

Sam Blocksidge, from Wolver-hampton, and Connie Hicklin, from Cannock, were delighted to achieve first place as the youth team and 20th overall. The club itself enjoyed top 10 finishes in two of the categories.

Hicklin, aged 17, is a pupil at Cardinal Griffin High School and has been sailing for six years, while Blocksidge, 19, who works as a boatbuilder, has been sailing for 10 years.

Neil Hawkins, Rear Commodore at the club, said: "The success of our youth and junior sailors is testament to the unrivalled coaching and dedication of club members who volunteer so much of their own time to teach."

South Staffordshire Sailing Club, with members of all ages from across the Midlands, was this year named as Britain's top community sports club by not-for-profit umbrella body the Sport and Recreation Alliance.

Representatives travelled to London to collect their prestigious Community Sport and Recreation
Premier Award, sponsored by RSA, from HRH The Earl of Wessex.

Scrappy win but pace is decisive

Rugeley 18 Aldridge 10
RUGELEY took a scrappy win, but one that maintained their 100 per cent record.

Pace on the flanks proved decisive as Rugeley opened up an 18-0 lead.

Rugeley 40 Aldridge 12
Rugeley seconds hit back from conceding an early try to dominate.

From the restart, Liam Morrison took possession of the ball, broke free from a maul and ran 15 metres to score in the corner.

After 28 minutes Dave Bagnall popped up to score a converted try under the posts.

Right on the break, club captain Ian Holdsworth touched down under the posts, and once again the steady foot of Adam Grocott brought the score to a healthy 19-12 to Rugeley.

At the restart Aldridge threw everything at Rugeley but the home side were having none of it and the absorbed everything.

Then up popped Bagnall to run the full length of the pitch to score a try that Grocott converted.

New boy Steve Edwards was able to use his height and power to push a try.

With five minutes to play only Grocott was able to break free and score and with the last kick of the game brought the final score to 40-12 to Rugeley.

Nick takes senior title

MORE than 100 senior golfers from across the Midlands converged on The Hawkesyard Estate & Golf Club for the fourth annual Seniors Open Day.

The 18-hole championship, sponsored for the first time by Nankang Tyres, was won by club member Nick Graham and his partner.

Participants were invited to "beat the pro" – and take on Hawkesyard's PGA Professional David Partridge – which 10 of them managed to do.

Seniors captain and event organiser Ivan Smith said: "Many thanks from the seniors for the work put in by everyone at Hawkesyard to make this year's event such a resounding success."

Burntwood's Mark Poole on the burst

Aza proves ace kicker in victory

Burntwood 33 Yardley & District 18

BURNTWOOD joined the early pacesetters in Midlands Three West North with a bonus point win at home to their visitors from Birmingham.

They secured the extra point before half time with a dominant performance up front which brought four tries.

They also discovered a new place kicker in Aza Dunet, who contributed three penalty goals and two conversions.

Yardley were first off the mark with a penalty before Dunet levelled with his first successful kick. The visitors then scored the first try only for Burntwood to reply with a penalty try when their attempt at a pushover try was illegally stopped. Dunet converted.

Another pushover attempt by the hosts proved unstoppable and it was Jack Neal who touched down for a lead of 15-8.

Yardley stayed in the game with their second try but a burst of 15 unanswered points put Burntwood well clear at the break.

Dunet landed a penalty before converting tries by Ben Holt and skipper Rob Cartwright. Holt's try came from a charged down kick and Cartwright finished off a well-controlled rolling maul by the forwards.

The second period proved to be a let-down compared to the first. With the visitors losing two players to the sin bin, scrums went uncontested for a spell and the game lost its shape and pattern.

Burntwood's Nick Peplow also spent 10 minutes on the touchline. During the uncontested period, Yardley reduced the arrears with a try. The only second half score for the hosts came from Dunet with a penalty five minutes from the end. Nevertheless, the coaching team were happy with the performance of the side whose average age overall was 24 and just 19 in the back division.

■ Burntwood seconds were quick out of the blocks to win their Merit Table match away to Wolverhampton thirds with tries from Ryan Percox, Craig Addy, Joe Cowling and James Holmes, plus a conversion from Addy.

Burntwood have a bye in round one of the RFU Senior Vase and so are without a confirmed fixture this Saturday. The seconds are in the fixture pool.

Jordan's hat-trick shunts off Railway

Chase League

Cannock Charity Cup
FIFTH DIVISION Athletic Bridge continued their great start to the season by knocking out Third Division Railway 6-1. Star striker Jordan Holmes bagged a hat-trick – that's six goals in three games for him – followed by a goal each for Phil Hale, Liam Price and Mark Ellison. Green Heath felled the Castle 2-0.

Premier League
Red White & Blue went top after beating Brereton Social 4-1. Dan Edge grabbed two with one each for Andy Reid and Ben Jackson. Second-placed Belt Road beat old foes Rugeley United 3-1; Matty Latham, Andy Tuck and Stu Russell scored. Magic Lantern beat Ridware Oak 3-1 with goals from John Freeman, Lee Knox and Sam Dyke. Brereton Town edged St Matthews 1-0.

Division One
The Littleton beat league leaders Premier Suite 4-1 with two goals for Matty Dickens and one each for Callum Smallman and John Whitehouse. AFC Jubilee turned over Short Heath 5-2 with a hat-trick for Jamie Griffiths and goals for Arran Hendley and Craig Ball. Chase Spartans shared six goals with Bar Sports.

Division Four
Brinsford Prison went top of the table with a 4-2 win over Wyrley Juniors. Second-placed Hazel Slade beat Essington 4-2. Gary Longdon netted twice, Adam Green added one and there was a headed goal by player-manager Ryan Edwards.

Hope & Anchor beat Bell & Bottle 3-2 with a double from Mark Syple and one for Dean Jones. Woody's beat Cannock Social 3-0 with goals from Steve Spinks, Ash Rendall and Ash Smith. AFC Fern beat Jolly Collier 6-1. Peter Malloy scored a hat-trick and Chris Beeston, Ash Ryder and Stu Rutherford added one each.

Division Five
Pied Piper whistled their way to the top with a 5-2 beating of local rivals Jubilee. Jordan Tunstall netted twice. White Hart Rangers took their first win, beating Nags Head 5-1. Keiren Ansell and Lewis Spalding both scored twice with Dan Bowen getting the other. Bridgtown Social beat Prairie Farm 8-2 and Hen House thrashed the Cow 8-1.

Leaders give Scholars a lesson in finishing

Chasetown 1 Coalville Town 4
LEADERS Coalville Town were good value for their win at The Scholars Ground in the Evo-Stik Northern Premier Division One South.

Three minutes later, the Leicestershire side should have been 2-0 ahead when Jerome Murdock broke clear from midfield, after a Chasetown attack had broken down, but his lobbed effort went narrowly over the bar with just Price to beat.

They doubled their advantage in the 23rd minute when a clearance by Jack Farmer put Greg Downes under pressure and he tripped a Coalville midfielder after losing control of the ball. The referee pointing to the spot and Coalville skipper Stuart Cameron despatched the penalty low to Price's left.

Back

The Scholars were by no means out of the game, but were twice thwarted by alert goalkeeping from Sean Bowles, who was also confidently collecting and punching crosses sent his way.

Chasetown were briefly back in the game 10 minutes later. Ant Maguire's cross from the left was misjudged by Bowles and Nick Wellecome had a straight-forward header to net his fifth goal of the season.

The lifeline for Craig

Chasetown FC

Harris' men lasted for just a minute as Farmer conceded a second penalty kick and this time Callum Woodward stepped up to convert.

In an open first half, Chasetown felt they were probably still in this game, particularly looking useful going forward with league debutant Jono Gould linking up a few times with Danny Smith.

The killer blow came four minutes into the second period when the league leaders increased their advantage with a deflected effort from Anthony Carney after Ryan Robbins' pass.

Although defensive lapses had cost Chasetown, their ability to try to get something from the game never wavered and Richard Teesdale saw a header saved after a Mark Branch cross.

With five minutes left, Farmer's header was palmed onto the crossbar by Bowles, following a Branch corner.

Chasetown: Price, Farmer, Branch, Slater, Downes, Teesdale, Maguire (Clarke-O'Connell 75), Saunders (Westwood 59), Wellecome (Hay 75), Smith, Gould. Subs not used: Richardson, Sullivan

Late winner makes it three in a row for Pitmen

Nathan Woolfe lines up his free-kick at Chorley and lets fly, with a very happy outcome for Hednesford

A LATE winner by Alex Melbourne gave Hednesford a third successive win in the Evo-Stik Northern Premier.

It was the home side who drew first blood on 28 minutes as Dan Crane misjudged a cross from the right and, stranded in no-man's land, saw Adam Roscoe's deflected header loop over his head and into the net.

Hednesford reacted well to going a goal down.

The equaliser came on the stroke of half-time as Dave MacPherson did well to win a free-kick on the edge of the area and Nathan Woolfe curled a delightful left-footed strike into the top corner.

In the second half an even game looked to be drifting towards a point apiece for the two promotion-chasing teams.

But just before the whistle, Chorley's Simon Garner gave the ball away in midfield – and it was an error which proved very costly.

Elliott Durrell picked up the ball and Chorley 1 Hednesford Town 2

advanced towards a retreating Chorley defence.

The diminutive midfielder played in Melbourne who steadied himself and superbly slotted the ball past keeper Jack Cudworth to win the game for Hednesford.

Chorley: Cudworth, Ross, Barnes (Foster 89), Teague, Russell, Garner, Roscoe, Whitham, Denham (Kilheeny 69), Stephenson, Ince. Subs not used: Cunliffe, Jansen, Williams

Stuck at bottom by latest defeat

Heath Hayes 1
Loughborough University 4
HEATH HAYES remain without a win in the Baker Joiner Midland Alliance, having been taught a lesson in finishing by an accomplished Varsity side.

Things could have been different had Hayes converted early chances after being the better side for the opening 15 minutes. Instead they are bottom of the table.

The game changed on 20 minutes when Dan Nti finished off a scintillating six-man move to put the students in front and almost immediately doubled the lead superbly heading home a cross from Allun Wood.

Hayes reduced the lead when Lowton again denied Waple but Brad Grice forced the ball home following the resulting corner.

An ankle injury forced Roofe off and he was replaced by Chris Deakin.

Hayes again conceded a sloppy goal when Adam Wood tried to shield the ball out for a go-kick only to be robbed by Nti who fed the ball in for a tap-in goal.

Hayes had more of the play in the second half but were lacklustre up front and susceptible to the break. Substitute Sam Cook got a fourth goal.

■ Hayes have a bye in the first round of the Polymac Services League Cup and travel to Continental Star in round two.

Champion cricket colts

CANNOCK Cricket Club enjoyed mixed fortunes at the season's end.

The firsts were relegated from Birmingham League Division Two, but the Sunday Colts were confirmed as East Shropshire champions.

The firsts took the drop after losing by eight wickets to Brewood, who sealed back-to-back titles. Cannock were bundled out for 86 (James Kidson 7-16) despite 35 for Sean Collings and 32 from Mike Stephenson. Brewood cruised past the target.

The Colts finished their fixtures some weeks back, but have had to wait for the table to be finalised.

Just some of the youngsters who have taken up free tennis coaching at Cheslyn Hay Leisure Centre

Youngsters can net themselves tennis session until November

FREE tennis sessions are set to continue throughout September and October at Cheslyn Hay Leisure Centre.

The news comes following support from the South Staffordshire School Sport Partnership and the leisure centre.

Free weekly tennis sessions will run on Mondays for children in school years three, four, five and six from 5.30-6.30pm. The sessions aim to develop tennis skills on half and three-quarter size courts led by LTA qualified coaches to allow youngsters to progress to full-court tennis. From 6.30-8pm there is organised tennis for youngsters aged 11-16 featuring match scenarios, technique and conditioned points to sharpen players' skills. A starter tennis competition is planned on Saturday, October 13.

To find out more or to confirm attendance, contact Chris or James Perrin by email at cheslynhaytennis@live.com or text/phone 07866 831982.

Sponsor move for boxers

GREAT WYRLEY Amateur Boxing Club begin their 14th season in the amateur ranks with a new sponsor.

And the backers' boss is already in the ring.

James Evans Financial Services, based in Moreston Court, Cannock are the sponsors and the club's head coach Peter Hickenbottom is delighted.

"In these hard times sponsorship is very hard to come by so everyone at the club is made up," he said.

"Their managing director Chris Evans is a regular at the boxing club. He is already sparring with the lads down the gym."

"The London Olympics have had a knock-on effect, and the gym is booming at the moment."

"Hopefully, now we have quite a large squad, we'll be looking to put a show on."

Tomorrow, Reece Roberts has his first bout of the new season when he faces James Lee from the Studio Boxing club in Birmingham.

FORTUNE REVERSED IN SURPRISE DEFEAT

Hednesford Town 0 Workso Town 4

HEDNESFORD TOWN'S unbeaten start to the season came to a halt with a shock reversal of fortune at the hands of Workso Town.

The visitors were the better team in every department and outplayed the Pitmen, especially in the second half, when Rob Smith's side were chasing the game.

The Tigers arrived at Keys Park having lost all three of their previous away games this season. But they looked organised in defence and regularly threatened on the counter-attack as Hednesford struggled to involve Nathan Woolfe and Elliott Durrell in attacking positions.

A lively, high-tempo start to this Evo-Stik Northern Premier game saw both keepers forced into a quality save apiece from long distance attempts by Durrell for Hednesford and Lee Beeson for Workso.

But the away side took the lead after Francino Francis felled Leon Mettam and Beeson converted the spot-kick on 38 minutes.

The Pitmen faithful looked for a reaction from their team in the second half but within 14 minutes of the restart a cross was flicked on at the near post and Beeson easily scored his second of the night.

Smith threw on Aaron Rey to chase the game and he could have scored with his first touch, failing to connect from a Durrell free-kick six yards from goal. But from the moment Dave

Hednesford Town

MacPherson lost out in a tackle with Beeson who crossed for Tom Denton to make it three on 68 minutes, the game was lost.

A superb passing move by Workso in the final minute culminated in a curling shot from Matt Young making it four and, in the process, reminding Hednesford Town that there will be no easy games in this division ahead of Saturday's huge FA Cup tie at Nuneaton Griff.

Hednesford Town: Crane, Disney (Ray 63), Campion, Bailey, Francis, MacPherson (Watkins 71), Melbourne, Durrell, Harvey, Lennon (Taylor 76), Woolfe. Subs not used: Barnes, O'Connor.

Workso Town: Bastock, Clark, Wood, Young, Ludlum, Miller, Beeson (Warlow 89), Towers, Denton (Menga 77), Mettam (Modest 81), King. Subs not used: McDonald, Hawes.

Attendance: 406.

Promotion just missed

PENKRIDGE firsts won their final cricket match of the season but fell an agonising three points short of gaining promotion from Birmingham League Division Three.

They dismissed Lichfield for 177 and then cruised past the total for the loss of only two wickets as Alex Watson hit an unbeaten 87.

The seconds made 131 against Lichfield and lost by four wickets, while the thirds skittled Armitage for 88 (Usman Khan 5-15) and won by four wickets.

Maguire's fancy feat fails to save the Scholars
